EAST LIVERPOOL HIGH BAND TIES FOR OHIO TITLE

Wins Superior Rating Along With Steubenville, Fremont In Class A Contest

LISBON SHARES CROWN

Ends In Four-way Deadlock In Class B; All Are Eligible For Regional Tourney

East Liverpool High school band shared Class A honors with Steubenville and Fremont in the state tournament at Columbus Saturday. Each was adjudged superior.

It is the second consecutive time the Potters, eastern Ohio co-champions, have tied for the state title in the biennial classic. They shared the championship with Fremont and Portsmouth in 1936.

Their splendid performances earned the three schools eligibility to compete in the regional tournament in Elkhart, Ind., next month.

Each of the three bands was given practically the same score. East Liverpool and Steubenville received two superiors and one excellent in the concert work and a superior mark for sight reading. Fremont had three superior marks for the concert work but fell to excellent in the sight reading.

Portsmouth Rated Excellent

Eight other bands participated in the Class A events, the competition being unusually keen. Portsmouth was rated excellent, Martins Ferry, which earned an excellent grade at the Eastern Ohio festival at Bridgeport two weeks ago, was dropped to the very good classification.

Others were rated as follows: Marion, excellent; Western Hills of Cincinnati, Lorain, Mansfield and Wooster, very good, and Canton McKinley, good.

The Western Hills band was the first to play, followed by Lorain, Fremont, Steubenville, East Liverpool, Canton, Martins Ferry, Mansfield, Marion, Wooster and Portsmouth. It was not until after 8 p. m. that the Portsmouth band ended its work, the results being announced shortly before 9.

The judges in the Class A contest were Ralph Rush of Cleveland Heights High school, Arthur Williams of Oberlin Conservatory and George Waln, also of Oberlin, who were in charge of the concert part of the program and Harry Clark of Cleveland Lincoln High school, in charge of sight reading.

Lisbon Ties For First

The required number for Class A bands was "Slavonic Rhapsody." while the locals played "Force of Destiny" for the selected number. "King Cotton" was the warm-up selection. Ralph E. Johnson, directed.

The Lisbon High school band also returned from the state contest with a superior rating among the Class B bands from the smaller schools. Ashtabula Harbor, Howe and Delaware also were rated superior. Other class B bands finished as follows: Greenville, Dover and Fostoria, excellent; Toronto, Nelsonville, Logan, Xenia and Bowling Green, very good, and Bridgeport, good.

Lisbon earned a superior rating in the northeastern Ohio contest at Kent two weeks ago, while Dover was rated superior and Toronto and Bridgeport excellent in the eastern Ohio contest.

BRITAIN AND IRELAND SIGN ECONOMIC PACT

Move Expected To End Old Trade, Defense Disputes

By The Associated Press.

LONDON, April 25.—Neville Chamberlain and Eamon De Valera, prime ministers of Great Britain and Ireland, today signed an agreement intended to end old enmities between the two countries and solve their trade and defense disputes.

The agreement, which fails to touch on the larger issue of the partition of Ireland, was signed formally in the cabinet room at No. 10 Downing st.

The pact, to be published tonight, is expected to put farm products of Ireland, the former Irish Free State, on the same preferential basis as Britain accords the dominions.

It is believed the two countries have agreed to abolish all retaliatory duties, product of their long economic conflict, and reduce tariffs.

Britain is expected to waive the land annuities, amounting to 5,000,000 pounds ($25,000,000) a year, and other payments on condition that Ireland spend a substantial amount on defense.

COUNTY JURORS RESUME INQUIRY

70 Witnesses On List For Concluding Week; Arson Suspects Make Bond

Special To The Review.

LISBON, April 25.—The Columbiana county grand jury today resumed deliberations after a week-end recess with more than 70 witnesses scheduled to testify this week, indicating the term is half completed.

As the jurors renewed their inquiry, county authorities pushed charges against three men from East Liverpool accused of arson, to include the cases in the current term.

Earl Arbuthnot, one of the asserted arson trio accused in the recent $15,000 fire in the People's Credit Co. store, testified Saturday morning at a hearing in squire's court he aided company officials in starting a fire in the East Liverpool store in 1931.

$5,000 Damage Set

The early blaze caused $5,000 damage. Held with Arbuthnot are Alexander Brown, manager of the East Liverpool unit, and Louis Wolfberg, New York City owner of the chain system.

Arbuthnot said the store was overstocked at the time with undesirable merchandise. He said he was approached by the manager of the store who told him company officials wanted a fire started and instructed to return in the evening.

"We brought out old boxes and other refuse and carried it to the back room, starting the fire there," Arbuthnot testified. "After the fire they transferred me to New Britton, Conn. When I lost my job there I went to Wolfberg and demanded a job, telling him I knew about the fire."

Arbuthnot said company officials talked in Jewish before the fire. "I had worked for them so long," he stated, "I understood a part of what they said."

Arbuthnot testified before Justice M. K. Zimerman at a hearing for Wolfberg. Wolfberg, bound over originally, demanded a rehearing on grounds that he was not represented by counsel at his arraignment. At the hearing Saturday, Attorney John Bauknecht of East Palestine acted in his behalf.

Bauknecht attacked Arbuthnot's testimony. He asked the witness to give the Hebrew expressions for "merchandise, fire insurance and collect." Arbuthnot was unable to comply.

A hearing for Brown will be held Tuesday at 2 p. m. Arbuthnot and several other witnesses will testify.

Meanwhile, Justice Zimerman decided today again to bind Wolfberg to the grand jury. The squire took the case under advisement at the conclusion of the hearing Saturday.

ALBANIANS HOLD FETE FOR ZOG, BRIDE-TO-BE

Nation Takes Holiday To Prepare For Wedding Wednesday

By The Associated Press.

TIRANA, Albania, April 25. — Thousands of Albanians gathered today before the modest palace of their monarch, Ahmed Zog, shouting good wishes to the king and his bride-to-be as 21 guns signaled opening of a national festival in honor of the wedding on Wednesday.

The holidays will end when Countess Geraldine Apponyi of Hungary becomes Queen of Albania.

Count Galeazzo Ciano, foreign minister of Italy, was cheered when he arrived this morning by plane from Rome. Italy is Albania's principal friend among the powers.

Tonight the king and his future queen will receive members of the royal family, relatives and friends of the Countess Apponyi, the entire diplomatic corps and members of the government.

NAZIS DEMAND RELEASE FROM RULE OF CZECHS

Henlein, Chief Of 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans, Seeks Autonomy For Group

HITLER SUPPORT SEEN

Move To Have Praha Sever France, Soviet Alliances Hinted In Program

By The Associated Press.

PRAHA, Czechoslovakia, April 25.—A demand for self-government under Nazi principles for the 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans, most of them living in a narrow border continguous to greater Germany, faced the Czechoslovak government today.

Konrad Henlein, leader of the majority of Germans within Czechoslovakia, at a party congress at Karlovy Vary yesterday made this the keynote of his program, expected to be the text for Nazi orators in the campaign of the next three weeks preceding communal elections.

In man of the voting communities the population is predominately German.

Henlein was known to have conferred in Berlin with Field Marshal Goering before he made his speech and it was believed the powerful influence of the German government was behind his demands.

Asks Revision Of Foreign Policy

He declared there must be "revision of the (Czechoslovak) foreign policy whereby the state up to now has lined up in the ranks of Germany's enemies"—a reference authoritatively interpreted as demanding that Czechoslovakia sever her alliances with France and Soviet Russia.

For the first time party leaders openly went on record subscribing to principles of the Nazi party in Germany.

And for the first time they claimed the right of Sudeten Germans to the same weltanschuung (world outlook) as that obtaining in the German Reich.

Ominously, Henlein declared: "We desire neither civil war nor foreign war—but we cannot longer tolerate conditions which to us are a kind of war in the midst of peace."

Unless the Germans receive autonomy and complete equality with Czechs, he warned, his minority would not consent to remain a part of the Czechoslovak state "into which we were incorporated against our will."

In Praha, it was not expected either the government or the Sudeten German party would come down to concrete discussions of Henlein's program until after the elections in 11,000 communes beginning May 22.

Termed 'Election Speech

A spokesman for Premier Milan Hodza referred to Henlein's address as an "election speech" demanding more than Henlein expects.

He shrugged his shoulders when asked if Nazism and democracy could be maintained within the same state.

METCALF TO OPPOSE HERBERT IN PRIMARY

Would Press Graft Inquiry As Attorney General

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., April 25—Sen. Verner E. Metcalf, one of the leaders in the Ohio senate's investigation of alleged graft in the state government, announced today his candidacy for the Republican nomination for attorney general.

He said that voters told him he could, as attorney general, disclose irregularities and "compel a return to honest and efficient state government."

The work begun by the investigating committee, which went out of existence Feb. 28, "is only started," Metcalf said. "It must be relentlessly pursued to a logical and successful conclusion."

His announcement said:

"The attorney general is not bound to represent dishonest elective or appointive state officials, to defend vicious contracts and questionable practices or the unlawful and reprehensible acts of political parasites."

Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy is defending the state liquor and highway directors in two suits in which Atty. Agnes B. Dickinson alleges the state was overcharged $2,350,000 on transportation and paving contracts as a result of political deals.

Metcalf is serving his second term in the senate and is its minority floor leader. He previously served two terms as prosecutor in Washington county.

Thomas J. Herbert of Cleveland also announced last week he would seek the Republican nomination for attorney general.

Ford Employe Group Seeks Guarantee Of $1,500 Yearly Wage

By The Associated Press.

DETROIT, April 25.—The first known attempt of workers in the automobile industry to obtain a guarantee of an annual minimum wage was revealed today by the Ford Brotherhood of America, an independent labor organization.

The brotherhood's goal is at least $1,500 a year for every hourly-rate worker in the mammoth Rouge plan of the Ford Motor Co. in suburban Dearborn, where it claims a membership of 21,400. During peak production periods the factory has nearly 90,000 employes.

The F. B. A. disclosed that it had negotiated with the company the last month all submitted written contract proposals to the management.

President Roosevelt and Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan have advocated the establishment of such a plan.

Henry Ford, founder of the motor company, has an engagement—announced last week—to lunch with President Roosevelt at the White House Wednesday. The subject of their discussion has not been announced.

William S. McDowell Sr., brotherhood attorney, said that in return for the proposed wage guarantee F. B. A. members would sign an agreement that each would purchase a new car from the company every two years at the same price at which they are sold to dealers.

OFFICERS TRAIL CO-ED ABDUCTOR

'Very Small' Man Hunted In Seizure Of Steubenville Girl, Dance Escort

By The Associated Press.

DELAWARE, O., April 25.—Five law enforcement agencies combined today in a wide search for a "very small" man who abducted an Ohio Wesleyan university co-ed and her escort and then escaped as state highway patrolmen cornered him.

C. N. Long, a patrolman attached to the Marion barracks, said that he expected "some action" by noon.

Long said that Miss Clara Mae Kerr, 22, of Steubenville and Charles Hopkins, 20, of Lansing, Mich. told him and Corp. S. W. Sowers that as they left a Delaware dance late Saturday night and entered their automobile a "very small" man accosted them and waving a pistol, entered the car. They were ordered to drive to Marion where, they said, the bandit ordered Hopkins from the machine and drove back toward Delaware with Miss Kerr.

Cornered Bandit Escapes

Hopkins went to the Marion patrol barracks, reported the incident and a cruiser sped after the machine, overtaking it in Delaware. Cornered, the bandit fled. Miss Kerr was found unhurt in the coupe.

The sheriffs of Delaware and Marion counties and police departments of Marion and Delaware joined the search at once.

Meanwhile, Jack Davis, 22, of Dayton and Wynsome Lyon, 20, of St. Marys also Wesleyan students, told Delaware police they too were accosted. Davis said he was robbed of a check and cash as he sat with Miss Lyon in an automobile during an intermission in the dance. Davis said the man, whom he described as "small," attempted to get into the automobile but they "talked him out of it."

'Rogues Gallery' Pictures Viewed

Miss Kerr and Hopkins went to Mansfield reformatory today to view "rogues gallery" pictures there in an effort to identify their kidnaper. Highway Patrolman Sowers accompanied them.

Both students said they would be able to identify the man who told them during the abduction trip, they said, that he had served a sentence in the reformatory.

Columbus police joined in the hunt in the belief that the kidnaper might be the same man who forced a Columbus motorist and his woman companion at gunpoint to drive him several blocks before robbing them of $4 in cash and the machine. Tom Welch reported the kidnap - holdup Friday night. He said neither he nor his companion was harmed.

SPENDING FOES TO FIGHT 'BLANK CHECK' FOR WPA

Senate Group Proposes Jobs Require Congress Stamp Of Approval First

NEW DEAL CONFIDENT

Inclusion Of Railroad Help In Pump Priming Plans Urged By Wheeler

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—A proposal to require congressional approval of public works projects originated today among senate opponents of the administration's spend-and-lend program.

Sen. Burke (D) of Nebraska declared the amount spent is not so important as the way it is spent.

"I am opposed to voting blank check appropriations," he said, adding that he also favored turning the administration of relief back to the states, a change supported by most Republican legislators.

A house subcommittee, considering the administration's relief and pump priming proposals, heard testimony this morning from farm security administration officials.

Some opponents of the President's recommendations talked of scrapping entirely his proposal for a billion dollar renewal of public works loans and grants to city and state projects.

Back Glass Contention

They contended with Chairman Glass (D) of Virginia of the senate appropriations committee that the Reconstruction Finance Corp. could handle all essential lending in a businesslike manner. They said the RFC's lending power could be increased, if necessary, from the new $1,500,000,000 total to $3,000,000,000.

The President's lieutenants, on the other hand, declared the entire program would go through congress in its original form.

Sen. Wheeler (D) of Montana, who has been conducting investigations of railroad financing, said financial aid for the railroads should be included in the general pump priming program.

Declaring this would be the best method of helping the carriers at the 1938 session of congress, Wheeler sought an early conference with house leaders and representatives of railroad management and labor to work out details.

Relief Setup Change Urged

He said he would discuss equipment loans for the carriers, RFC loans for "border-line" roads, a work-relief program for furloughed railroad workers and other financial help.

The Montana senator declared that if the railroads had reduced top-heavy capitalizations in 1929, "they would have been in a better

COURT UPHOLDS CITY BANKRUPTCY POWERS

High Tribunal Clears Way To Aid Municipalities

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 25. — The Supreme Court ruled constitutional today the revised municipal bankruptcy act which permits cities and improvement and school districts to agree with creditors to reduce their indebtedness in federal bankruptcy courts.

Chief Justice Hughes delivered the opinion to which Justices McReynolds and Butler dissented. Justice Cardozo did not participate.

Hughes asserted that "the bankruptcy power may be exerted to give effect to a plan for the composition of the debts of an insolvent debtor."

The court on May 25, 1936, held unconstitutional a similar act permitting reduction of indebtedness.

The legislation was passed as a substitute for an act held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court in 1936.

Local Postoffice Will Issue Special Cachet May 15-21 To Mark Anniversary Of Air Mail

Philatelist's Item Will Bear Copy Of Pottery Mural And Inscription, 'Buy American-Made Dinner Ware'

A cachet, two and one half inches square, bearing a facsimile of the pioneer pottery mural in the postoffice here and the slogan "Buy American-made Dinner ware," will be the feature of the local postoffice's participation in National Air Mail week, May 15-21, commemorating the 20th anniversary of the inauguration of air mail service.

In announcing the celebration here, Postmaster Ralph C. Benedum today named Mayor Lee Copenhaver honorary chairman of the committee; Harold B. Barth, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, honorary secretary, and Leslie Spence of Globe st. in East End, an ardent stamp collector and philatelic authority, active chairman.

The purpose of National Air Mail week, in addition to commemorating the inauguration of the service, instituted by the postoffice department May 15, 1918, is to educate citizens in the use of air mail, showing its progress, dependability, safety and value and to increase the use of air mail, which will increase the revenue and make

Ask Governor For Definite Assurance Ohio Workers Are Not Assessed

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, April 25.—The Ohio League of Women Voters called upon Gov. Martin L. Davey today for definite asurance that civil service employes in Ohio were not being solicited for campaign contributions.

In a letter to Gov. Davey, Mrs. C. C. Shively, league vice president, cited published reports that classified and other state employes were being asked to contribute five percent of their annual salaries.

'Public Statement' Asked

Mrs. Shively requested a "public statement" to the effect that Gov. Davey had not authorized such contributions and that he would prohibit them.

She also asked that state department heads be directed to submit to Gov. Davey information on any contribution campaign among civil service workers for action by the attorney general for an opinion as to whether state laws prohibiting the practice were being violated.

Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy shunted to the state civil service commission the demand for an investigation.

Precedent Followed

In so doing, Duffy said he was adhering to a long-established practice of his predecessors. He quoted a letter by former Atty. Gen. John W. Bricker to the civil service commission April 6, 1936, asking the commission to investigate similar complaints at that time.

Stating his position in a letter to Alfred Battman of Cincinnati, council for the League of Women Voters, Duffy said he would cooperate with Bettman in seeking an allowance from the state emergency board to the civil service commission for an investigation. Bettman had suggested that Duffy request an allowance for his own department to make the investigation.

Duffy adhered to his original position that a suit to enjoin solicitations, as suggested by Bettman, could not be brought under the law.

JAPANESE ALTER ARMY COMMAND

North China Chief Recalled After Troops Major Loss At Taierhchwang

By The Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, April 25.—Reports of a change in the Japanese command in North China as a result of the disastrous Taierhchwang defeat coincided today with fresh Japanese advances in the drive to wipe out the stain of that reverse.

The American-owned Shanghai Evening Post and Mercury said Gen. Count Juichi Terauch, commanding in North China since early in the war, had been recalled to Japan and been succeeded by Lieut.-Gen. Jun Ushiromiya, known as one of Japan's greatest tacticians.

The Japanese army spokesman in Shanghai denied reports of a change in command. (The Tokyo war office said they were "groundless.")

A new battle for possession of Taierchwang, war-despoiled south Shantung city where the Japanese suffered a disastrous defeat early in April, appeared imminent as the invaders struggled to reach the Lunghai railway.

The Chinese, fighting desperately to check the Japanese offensive along the south Shantung border, declared Japan soon would have fully 300,000 soldiers engaged in their revitalized drive to capture Suchow.

GEN. DAWES SUFFERS APPENDICITIS ATTACK

Former Vice President Goes Under Knife In New York

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 25.—Roosevelt hospital officials disclosed today that Brig. Gen. Charles Gates Dawes, former vice president who was taken suddenly ill yesterday, had been operated on for "acute suppurative appendicitis."

Dawes, who will be 73 years old Aug. 27, came to New York from Chicago to attend the wedding of Francis Warren Pershing, son of Gen. John J. Pershing, and Muriel Bache Richards.

He was in his suite at the Walworf-Astoria when he was stricken, and was removed at once to the hospital. The announcement from the hospital did not say when the operation was performed.

At 9 this morning a nurse at the hospital said the general's condition was "as good as could be expected."

The attending physician is Dr. Henry W. Cave. Mrs. Dawes is in New York with her husband.

At 10:30 a. m. Dr. Cave reported Gen. Dawes' temperature was 99 and his pulse 90, and his condition "good."

"Suppurative" is a condition tending to generate pus. The hospital said it was not a rare condition nor generally dangerous.

Dr. Cave announced that daily bulletins would be issued at 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Request For Prompt Action Surprises Chieftains And Adds To Varied Problems Snagging Adjournment

RECENT RULINGS POINT TO FAVORABLE COURTS

Congress Also Will Receive Message Seeking Revised Anti-Trust Laws Before President Takes Rest

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—President Roosevelt asked congress today to remove "promptly" tax exemptions on income from all future government bond issues—federal, state and local — and on all government salaries.

Existing exemptions, he said, resulted from judicial decisions and could be eliminated by "a short and simple statute" which he predicted the courts would uphold.

Some advocates of ending such exemptions have claimed a constitutional amendment would be necessary because of judicial decisions holding the federal government could not tax state bonds, nor the state government federal bonds.

Mr. Roosevelt said, however, that recent decisions indicated the courts were following a different line of thought from that which produced earlier rulings.

The President's request for "prompt" action came as a surprise to many legislators and added to the problems of administration leaders trying to reach adjournment by the latter part of May.

Prior to receipt of the message, some informed members of congress had predicted it would ask only a study of the problem.

$155,000,000 Yield Estimated

The President asserted exemption of securities from taxes had created "a vast reservoir of tax exempt securities in the hands of the very persons who equitably should not be relieved of taxes on their income."

"This reservoir now constitutes a serious menace to the fiscal systems of both the states and the nation," he added.

Similarly, he said, tax exemptions claimed by officers and employes of state and local governments have become "a serious defect in the fiscal systems of the states and the nation, for they rely increasingly upon graduated income taxes for their revenues."

Treasury experts have estimated that removal of security and salary exemptions would produce income of $155,000,000 annually for the federal government on the basis of present security issues and under present tax laws.

The President said that "for more than 20 years secretaries of the treasury have reported to the congress the growing evils of these tax exemptions."

"Economists generally have regarded them as wholly inconsistent with any rational system of progressive taxation," he said.

"Therefore, I lay before the congress the statement that a fair and effective progressive income tax and a huge perpetual reserve of tax exempt bonds cannot exist side by side."

Judicial Decisions Favorable

"The desirability of this recommendation," the President continued, "has been apparent for some time but heretofore it has been assumed that the congress was obliged to wait upon that cumbersome and uncertain remedy—a constitutional amendment—before taking action."

"Today, however, expressions in recent judicial opinions lead us to hope that the assumptions underlying these doctrines are being questioned by the court itself and that these tax immunities are not inexorable requirements under the Constitution itself but are the result of judicial decision.

"Therefore, it is not unreasonable to hope that judicial decisions may find it possible to correct it."

The President said in the outset of his message to congress that the 16th amendment to the Constitution authorized congress "to lay and collect taxes on incomes, from whatever source derived."

"That," he said, "is plain language.

"Fairly construed this language would seem to authorize taxation of income derived from state and municipal, as well as federal bonds, and also income derived from state and municipal as well as federal offices."

Specific Statement Made

He then made this specific statement with regard to tax exempt government securities:

"I, therefore, recommend to the congress that effective action be promptly taken to terminate these tax exemptions for the future. The

GERMANS PRESS MAJOR AUSTRIAN SOCIAL PROGRAM

Millions Of Marks Pumped Into Impoverished Land To Better People

HOUSING PROJECT SET

Nazis Maintain People Who Are Busy Have No Time For Other Creeds

VIENNA, (correspondence of the Associated Press)—The Nazis are pumping millions of marks into impoverished Austria for a large-scale social betterment program.

Austria's new masters want more babies, fewer suicides, less mendicancy and greater agricultural production.

Money is the lever for achieving all. An old Nazi principle is that people who have work, homes and children have no time for anti-Nazi political creeds, especially Communism.

An appropriation of 32,000,000 marks ($12,800,000) has been announced for founding siedlungen (homestead) colonies, low-rent housing projects, apartment blocks for government workers and homes for foresters and agriculture officials.

Colonies Increase Employment

Siedlungen colonies are planned near the cities of Linz, Leoben, Donawitz, Wels and Ried. Each unit consists of a plot of from 2,400 to 3,000 square yards, a three to five-room house with kitchen and bath and a stable. The purpose is to enable poor but "politically-reliable" families to live an independent existence.

Building of the siedlungen colonies also increases employment.

The Nazis also are encouraging married couples to have children. Plans for a loan scheme to help couples establish homes and buy furniture are being formulated.

"Children are once more a blessing," is the slogan of the Nazis, dwelling on the virtual impossibility for many of raising families under the poverty-stricken old regime.

Move To End Beggary

The Nazis want to end beggary by detaining beggars and caring for them. Mendicancy is already waning. A 50 percent increase in doles for the poorest in Vienna has been decreed. Foodstuffs have been distributed. Twenty-five thousand families have been given such economic "first aid."

Reorganization of the whole system of public charity is under way.

Other social improvements include the feeding of thousands of poor, especially children, by the rolling kitchens of the army or gendarmerie; new regulations giving discharged employes the right of appeal; larger pensions for war veterans' widows; paid vacations, better working conditions and unemployment insurance.

How many of the 600,000 unemployed in Austria at the time of union have been taken care of has not been announced, but the proportion is believed to be large. In one work creation campaign in Vienna alone 18,475 got jobs. New automobile highways, extensions of Germany's super-highway system, are making work for many more.

21 AVERAGE AGE IN REFORMATORY

Increase In Charges, Fewer Parades In 1937 Raised Institute Population

By The Associated Press.

MANSFIELD, O., April 25—The average inmate of the Ohio state reformatory for men last year was approximately 21, attended grade schools, claimed some sort of church affiliation, and was single, Supt. Arthur L. Clattke's annual report to state Welfare Director Margaret Allman showed today.

An increase in commitments and fewer paroles in 1937 boosted the reformatory's population to 2,767 on last Jan. 1, a gain of 392 over the previous year, but still well below the record figure of 3,365 in 1935, Glattke said.

Commitments totaled 1,246 and paroles 884 last year, compared with 967 new prisoners admitted and 1,372 paroled during 1936. Thirty-six were released upon completion of sentences. Only prisoners between the ages of 18 and 30 are received.

The state's seven most populous counties contributed 64 percent of last year's inmates, while eight had no commitments whatsoever. Cuyahoga headed the list with 326, followed by Franklin with 121, Hamilton with 120, Lucas 77, Summit 62 Montgomery 53 and Stark 40.

Carroll, Geaugua, Monroe, Morgan, Morrow, Noble, Perry and Vinton counties made no contributions to the reformatory's population.

Of the 1,246 prisoners admitted last year, 70 percent were white, 50 percent said they were Protestant and 30 percent Catholics, 766 said they had attended grade school and 441 high school, and 942 were single.

Occupations listed included 407 laborers, 128 farmers and 86 truck drivers with 96 claiming no occupation. Sixteen inmates said they had attended college, 18 could neither read nor write and 78 of the 226 married inmates said they were either separated from their wives or divorced.

Of the 63 separate offenses for which the prisoners were sentenced during 1937, robbery headed the list with 289 commitments.

Odd Science

There Is 'Something New Under The Sun'

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

ROCHESTER, Minn. — It is going to be hard to prove there is not "something new under the sun" in the case of sulfanilamide.

This stuff is the extract of a red dye which has been turned into a sensational remedy for blood poisoning and a number of serious diseases. As a dye it is 30 years old. As a medicine is some years old.

But as a sunburn trouble it is new. The facts were brought out in a report to a Mayo clinic meeting by L. A. Brunsting, M. D. Among many persons to whom it was administered, a few came down about a week later with painful skin troubles.

They did not look like sunburn. They were what medical men class as "eruptions." Checking back, Dr. Brunsting said, showed that the eruptions appeared only where hot sunlight had fallen on the skin.

There were several cases of eruptions on hands and faces. One man had a bad outbreak on his left arm, which he exposed to the sun while driving his car.

Another man who liked sun baths erupted all over his body.

All these outbreaks were painful, but none fatal. The cause, Dr. Brunsting said, was "photosensitivity." The dye made the skin sensitive.

MOTORISTS HERE WARNED OF NEW STATE AUTO LAW

Judge Grosshans Points To Severity Of Penalties In Event Of Violations

A total of 10,441 operator's licenses was revoked in Ohio during the first 45 days of 1938, Municipal Judge Frank E. Grosshans said today warning motorists of the exacting provisions of the state financial responsibility law.

"Police notify the state motor vehicle bureau of every traffic violation, excepting parking, within 30 hours after a report is made," Judge Grosshans said." The vehicle department gives offenders 30 days in which to furnish financial responsibility, which means posting of $11,000 bond to regain the right to drive.

Few Realize Seriousness

Few motorists realize the seriousness of the new code which calls for sizeable financial responsibility in traffic violations from crashing a red light or exceeding the speed limit to drunken driving or manslaughter, the municipal jurist emphasized.

Only 878 drivers of 11,234 reported to the state bureau up to Feb. 14, 1938 were able to file proof of financial responsibility and regain their driving permits, the motor vehicle bureau advised Judge Grosshans. Cases pending listed 665 names, while 250 were dismissed for various reasons and operator's licenses of 10,441 were revoked.

"This means that the public of Ohio has been protected against those who have regained their rights in the amount of $9,658,000, in absolute bond protection against those individuals in their operation, use, maintenance and ownership of motor vehicles upon the public roads and highways of Ohio," the state registrar of motor vehicles wrote Judge Groshans.

Code Section Cited

Section 6298-5 of the state code, dealing with ability to respond in damages, reads:

"A person shall be deemed to have ability to respond in damages, as required by this act, if, and only if he can satisfy a judgment, or judgments, thereafter rendered against him, on account of his ownership, maintenance, use of operation of a motor vehicle, which do not exceed the following:

"A—The sum of $5,000 in an action for wrongful death or personal injury.

"B—The aggregate sum of $10,000 in two or more actions for wrongful death or personal injury to two or more persons, arising out of one accident.

"C—The aggregate sum of $1,000 in one or more actions for damages to property arising out of one accident."

of the inquisitors. Arbuthnot also gained his freedom with $1,000 bail, Wolfberg is free under $1,700 security.

At the outset of the April grand jury session, the prosecutor's office issued subpenaes for approximately 110 witnesses for the 40 cases on the docket. About 70 testified last week.

In the meantime, the docket expanded to nearly 50 cases, necessitating calling additional witnesses. About 140 will have testified when the inquiry ends, expected by Friday.

Several witnesses will be called in connection with the gambling probe asked by Judge W. F. Lones. The quiz will pertain to all forms of gambling activities in the county, including sale and operation of slot machines and numbers activities.

24 WIN PLACES ON SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST GROUP

6 More High School Pupils To Be Chosen For Kent Competition May 7

Twenty-four high school students have been named to places on the local team to compete in the district-state scholarship tests at Kent State university Saturday, May 7, Principal George A. Beck revealed today.

The positions were determined by results of examinations given in the high school Friday and Saturday.

Six more places are pending, ties necessitating further competition.

The East Liverpool team will compete in 15 of the 16 subjects offered. Two students are eligible for each subject.

Team Members Listed

Those who have established places on the team are: English IV—Catherine McGowan and Mary Turner, English II—Nancy McVay and Joan Altman, English I—Marjorie Hartt and Irena Lawson, French I—Yvonne Golding and Concetta Wise, French II—Martha Herbert, Latin I—George Hargreaves, Latin II—Sanford Sulkes and Nancy McVay, Biology—Hartley Anthony and Mae Tilton, Chemistry—William Foulks and Robert Edwards.

Physics—Ted Fenton and Edward Gamble, general science—Alfred Oakes, plane geometry — Charles Tracy and Harry Martin, American history—Edward Gamble and Eleanor Maisel, world history—Harriett Brown, algebra I—Josephine Powers and Jean Reed.

In two cases students rated positions on the team in two subjects. They will be given their choice of subjects and their places in the other subjects opened for students with the next highest rating.

Ties for second positions included: Latin I—Marjorie Hartt, Josephine Powers and Florence Morris, general science—James Eynon and Irena Lawson, world history—Anne Goodwin and Mildred Wilson.

French II Place Vacant

The second position in French II also remains to be determined.

The examinations included typing competition, but it was not known if this would be included in the Kent tests. Benajmin Franklin and Mary Davis finished first and second, respectively, in first-year typing, while Stella Skaleski and Ruth Ellen Ebaugh won first and second honors, respectively, in second-year typing.

There were no students competing in third-year English.

The team will be taken to Kent by school bus May 7 in the company of members of the faculty. The tests there, of one hour's duration, will be duplicated in four other centers in the state and participants graded on both a district and state basis.

FUEL TRANSPORT GAINS OBSERVED FOR RIVER BOATS

Shippers See Considerable Increase For Petroleum And Gasoline Cargoes

Now that winter definitely has disappeared, district waterway authorities report considerable movement of petroleum products from pipe stations to landings and limestone from mines to river ports, as well as a pick-up in gasoline trade.

Petroleum products, distributed from Allegheny and Monongahela river landings by truck, rose in shipping lists in March, Ohio river figures show. Last month figures quoted at 52,341 tons, exceeded February petroleum tonnage of 38,825 on the Ohio.

Stone Shipping Late

Limestone movement started late last month, but 700 tons were downstream from Templeton, Pa., on the Allegheny, none the less. With the opening of the mines and shipment to Monongahela river points comes the report that 40 bargeloads have been requested for road construction.

Earl Webster's Steel City is one of several steamers supplying downriver stations with gasoline. Zubik Transportation line boats returned from gasoline delivery last week, the Smoky City from Kittanning and the Atlas from Donora.

The steel trade always moves. Up from southern delivery with a load of empties, this side of Natchez is the Monongahela of the Carnegie-Illinois line, in charge of Capt. John A. Hottell.

Fuel Flat Launched

The first of a fleet of three fuel flats measuring 125 feet long, 26 feet wide and nine feet deep with a capacity of 500 tons was launched last week by the Bethlehem Steel Co. The last of the barges, made for the Campbell Transportation Co., will be completed about May 6.

The steamer Omar received tows from the Leone and Prosperity, under charter to the American Barge line, near New Matamoras, W. Va., Saturday, for southern delivery.

In dam 8 river movement, the Charles T. Campbell was up with three empties, the Iron City down with four empties, the Mongah down with six coal barges and up with nine empties, the Shawnee down light and up with one empty and the Standard up with one empty and down with one barge of gasoline.

IT DID HAPPEN HERE—A JEW DEFENDS A NAZI

By a strange coincidence Otto Geissler, 17-year-old Nazi and German citizen, was represented by Jewish Attorney Joseph Ellison when he appeared in New York court to answer a charge of carrying a concealed weapon in connection with the riot between American legionnaires and German-American Bund members at a Hitler birthday celebration. On freeing Geissler, Magistrate Matthew Troy remarked that "it could only happen here," and that "this situation proved the worthwhileness of Americanism." The lawyer was assigned by the magistrate when the defendant said he had no lawyer.

QUIZ PRESSED IN MINE BLAST THAT KILLED 45

Victims Of Virginia Explosion Sent To Homes In 5 States

By The Associated Press.

GRUNDY, Va., April 25.—Representatives of the mine inspection division of the Virginia department or labor sought to determine today the cause of a violent explosion that killed 45 men in the Keen mountain mine of the Red Jacket Coal Co. Friday.

Mine Foreman Henry Cook expressed the conviction there could be but one answer—a coal dust explosion.

Bodies of the victims, burned and blackened by the volcanic-like eruption that hurled massive machinery from the mouth of the mine, traveled to sorrowing homes in five states.

It appeared unlikely that any of the three injured survivors would be able to shed any light on circumstances leading to the blast.

G. W. Elam, the most seriously hurt, continued in a critical condition.

ROOSEVELT ASKS PROMPT ACTION ON TAX REQUEST

Urges Congress Take Quick Steps To Kill Exemption On Bonds, Salaries

legislation should confer the same powers on the states with respect to the taxation of federal bonds hereafter issued as is granted to the federal government with respect to state and municipal bonds hereafter issued."

Turning to the question of taxing the salaries of government employes, the President pointed out that federal taxes are not levied on the incomes of state, county and municipal employes and that the states do not tax the income of federal employes.

In a democracy, he said, those who earn their livelihood from the government should receive the same treatment as those working for private employers.

He then told congress:

"I recommend, therefore, that the congress enact legislation ending tax exemption on government salaries of all kinds, conferring powers on the states with respect to federal salaries and powers to the federal government with respect to state and local government salaries."

The ending of tax exemption, he said, "be it of government securities or of government salaries, is a matter, not of politics, but of principle."

First of Two Messages

On the question of taxing income from securities, Mr. Roosevelt said under the present system "men with great means best able to assume business risks have been encouraged to lock up substantial portions of their funds in tax exempt securities."

"Men with little means who should be encouraged to hold the secure obligations of the federal and state governments have been obliged to pay a relatively higher rate for those securities than the very rich because the tax immunity is of less value to them than to those whose incomes fall in the higher brackets," he added.

The communication on taxes has the first of two important messages which Mr. Roosevelt has proposed to send to congress this week. The other, to be sent before he leaves Friday on a fishing trip, will deal, he said, with revision of anti-trust laws.

Some congressional leaders, however, have expressed the opinion this message will ask only a study looking toward action at the next session.

Besides the request for action on taxes, and what action may be asked on the anti-trust laws, the chief threat to adjournment plans is the revised wage and hour bill, now before the house rules committee.

Wage Bill Snag Continues

This committee, a majority of which opposed consideration of the original wage-hour bill, will decide this week whether to send the new measure to the house floor. There was a possibility some of the Republican committeemen might join with Democratic proponents in voting to give the bill the right-of-way. Southern Democrats generally have opposed it.

Should the bill get to the house floor, leaders said it probably would be approved. It then would go back to the senate, which passed a different wage-hour bill last summer, and there it might encounter extended debate.

In the immediate legislation situation, leaders pressed for final enactment of two key administration proposals—tax revision and naval expansion.

Major provisions of the $5,000,000,000 tax bill have been agreed on by a senate-house committee, which retained a modified levy on undistributed profits. Some legislators expressed hope the bill could go to the White House by Friday.

The $1,156,000,000 naval expansion program, already approved by the house, drew renewed opposition in the senate today, but leaders forecast passage by mid-week.

The house leadership, awaiting committee action on the President's lending-spending program, arranged a "mopping up" scheduled for this week to get secondary measures out of the way.

Only three major bills—housing, farm and emergency relief—have been enacted. One administration proposal—the government reorganization bill—was shelved by the house.

SPENDING FOES FIGHT BLANK CHECK TO WPA

position today and would not be facing another crisis."

"I feel they ought to go through that process now," he added, "but I'm not going to put my judgment against all the recommendations that have been set to congress by the President."

In a minority report, two Republican members of the senate unemployment committee recommended that federal relief machinery be overhauled to give more local control.

Declaring that distribution of funds among states for supplying jobs to the unemployed "had not been carried out on a scientific or factual basis," Senators Davis of Pennsylvania and Lodge of Massachusetts demanded that the money be divided "in accordance with the principle of greatest need."

They agreed with the majority's finding, made public last week by Chairman Byrnes (D) of South Carolina, that repeal of the undistributed profits tax and modification of the capital gains tax would be "exceedingly helpful" in combatting unemployment.

He Stole The Show

THEY'RE accusing Gen. John J. Pershing of stealing the show at the wedding of his son and Muriel Bache Richards—but making the accusation with tears in their eyes.

It wasn't merely the show at the wedding which the general stole last week. It was the whole show of the week's parade of events. Among stories of momentous happenings here and abroad, none was followed with more interest than the reappearance of America's favorite soldier.

It wasn't the first time Gen. Pershing had endeared himself. He rose to the occasion nobly in the World war. He rose to it again when the war was over by finding a place for himself in a time of peace. When a few months ago he was believed to be dying, the words of admiration began to flow over his career in a torrent.

They were checked suddenly and happily by his recovery, but released when he traveled east, again erect and handsome, to attend his son's wedding.

It is to be hoped the general is a client of a good clipping bureau. He is one man who has heard the tribute usually reserved for funeral orations.

All Eyes On Pennsylvania

PENNSYLVANIANS do their primary voting May 17. If things continue to get hotter in Penn's woods, there'll be fire.

Worst yet, there might be an explosion of the volatile substances in the state's Democratic party. If that were to happen, Republicans would crawl out from under the rocks where they've been hiding and prowl happily among the Democratic ruins. As long as WPA money and Democratic patronage last, that seems to be their only chance to clean up.

This is just one reason for Pennsylvania being the center of political attraction this spring. Another, less important but no less interesting, is that eminent new dealer and noted liberal, Joseph F. Guffey, erstwhile boss of the state and, when circumstances grant the time its junior senator.

There is no politician quite like Mr. Guffey, the neatest combination of new deal theory and old deal practice in the business. His occupation is lining up votes; his avocation is bearing a torch for the new deal. He uses the torch to find the votes. It has worked fine so far.

If he can find enough votes to swamp the Democratic insurgents who resent Boss Guffey's alliance with John L. Lewis, James A. Farley, once the new deal's "practical" man, but lately turned skeptical, surely will have to doff his hat to a new master of the art of showing Democrats who's the boss.

Well Now, Who Won?

IT stands to reason, someone lost the struggle over tax revision. It probably was the group which won.

The paradox can be explained like this: Due to technicalities which made it impossible to over-rule Mr. Roosevelt, opponents of his ideas about taxes on undistributed surplus and capital gains had to take the best compromise they could get. It wasn't very good.

Thus, the President's ideas were upheld in principle, but in practice are to be modified to make them as little hurtful as possible. A stubborn executive has successfully maintained the principles of a bad tax.

In the long run, this will hurt the President and his party far more than a surrender could have hurt them. They have won a Pyrrhic victory—"one more such victory over the Romans and we are utterly undone."

Irish Eyes Are Smiling

IRELAND'S choice of Prof. Douglas Hyde, its foremost Gaelic scholar, to be first president under the new constitution strikes a soft note of harmony in the usually discordant politics of the Free State. His election without a contest seems assured.

Dr. Hyde, 78 years old, never has been in politics. A scholar, a poet, a playwright and a gentle philosopher, he is a symbol of Irish culture, free from Irish strife. He fits perfectly the requirement that candidates for the office of president in Ireland must be non-political, possessing a record in accord with the aspirations of all the Irish people.

Together with the agreement finally reached with Great Britain, the accession of so well loved a man to the presidency should assure Ireland of an era of good feeling lasting for many years—a great tribute to the dreams and political genius of dour Eamon de Valera.

A Lesson In Living

ONCE more it is Be Kind To Animals week, an occasion to dwell thoughtfully on men's progress in a fundamental lesson in living.

There is less sentiment than plain sense in being kind to animals. It is an attitude which bespeaks achievement in culture. A human being who is cruel to a dog, a horse, a cat cannot argue with any conviction that he would not be similarly cruel to his own kind if he were not restrained by fear of the consequences.

So it may be said that prevention of cruelty to animals is really a cause which appeals to all men to rid themselves of the curse of cruelty—not only to animals, but to anything which lives.

Japan's Vast Ship Building Program Answers Vandenberg Query: What Justifies Big Navy?

By WALTER LIPPMANN

LAST week Sen. Vandenberg delivered a carefully prepared speech opposing the supplementary naval bill and since this is likely to be the strongest case that can be made, Mr. Vandenberg's argument needs to be studied.

Under the existing law the size of the navy is fixed at the tonnage provided by the naval treaties; under the bill now being debated a 20 percent larger navy would be "authorized." That does not mean that we shall soon have such a navy. We do not now have a navy as large as the existing law already authorized. We may never have it. For all the ships authorized have not been built. The money necessary to build them has not even been appropriated. There is nothing which compels future congresses to supply the money. The new bill simply makes it legal for future congresses to provide the money and for this President and future Presidents to build, if they can get the money, ships up to 120 percent of the tonnage stipulated in the virtually defunct treaties of naval limitation.

Mr. Lippmann

All this Sen Vandenberg understands very well. This makes the character of his argument all the more bewildering. For in the first column on page 7,395 of The Congressional Record he cries out that "this new billion dollar burden" will bring us nearer to "national bankruptcy"; and in the second column of the same page and for many pages thereafter he is complaining that this "super-super navy" will take from 10 to 20 years to construct. Now he cannot have it both ways. He cannot charge the sponsors of the bill with adding a billion dollar burden that threatens national bankruptcy and then chide them for not having spent some 650 millions authorized, but not yet appropriated, under the act of 1934. He cannot declaim against the "insanity" of a hasty expansion of the navy and also against the slowness with which the navy is being expanded. If the senator is right that supplemental construction will take even 10 years to complete, then he must not talk as if he were being asked to make the taxpayers give up a billion dollars next week.

What he is actually being asked to do, of course, is neither to appropriate a huge sum of money, nor even to start the actual construction of what he calls a "super-super navy." He is being asked to give his approval to a legal plan, good theoretically for 5 or 10 years, which will guide the navy and future congresses in their building program. The reason for making such a plan is that the navy needs to know in advance what kind of navy congress is likely to provide the money for. The navy needs to know this, because it takes about a year merely to draw the paper designs and make the contracts for a battleship. Moreover, it takes years to provide the facilities for great ships and the trained personnel, and unless the whole thing is planned over a long period of time it is impossible to make an efficient and properly balanced fleet.

THE question, therefore, is whether or not congress ought now to tell the navy to proceed on the assumption that in the coming years it must build a navy 20 percent larger than the navy contemplated in 1934. Sen. Vandenberg asks whether anything has happened which requires and justifies the United States in 1938 to plan for a larger navy than it planned for in 1934. The answer to that question depends upon one's judgment of what has happened in the rest of the world.

A lot has happened. Japan has freed herself of all limitations under the treaties and has taken the position that she will not even inform us as to what kind of navy she is building. So we are confronted now as we were not in 1934, not merely with unlimited Japanese naval construction, unlimited as to quantity, unlimited as to tonnage, unlimited as to gun calibres—we are confronted, also, with the fact that Japan is building secretly. Sen. Vandenberg asked what happened in January of this year to cause the administration to ask for this supplemental authorization. If he will read the bill which he is opposing he will see what must have happened.

The bill authorizes the construction of 135,000 tons of additional capital ships. Let him divide that figure by three and he will see that this means three 45,000-ton battleships. Under the old law and the old treaty ships were limited to 35,000 tons. It does not call for a Sherlock Holmes to detect the fact that some time around the beginning of this year our government must have learned that Japan is secretly building 45,000-ton ships. Once that information was obtained, and the Japanese have not denied it, what could the government do but to ask for the authority to plan ships of equal power? For we must remember that only a ship of 45,000 tons, with all that this implies about armor, speed and size of guns, can deal with another ship of 45,000 tons. A smaller ship cannot even give battle to the larger ship and if we are to have a navy which is even equal to Japan's we must have ships of equal power. It is no good having a navy composed of small ships which can be sunk by bigger guns fired from such distance that there can be no reply.

That surely is the primary reason for this bill which Sen. Vandenberg professes to find so mysterious. And if the administration does not shout its reasons from the house tops, ought it to be blamed for preferring not to exasperate Japanese public opinion or to agitate American opinion? The essential facts are evident enough to any one who cares to look for them.

THE fact that Japan is building a super-navy secretly is not the only reason why it is reasonable to say that in 1938 we should plan for a bigger navy than we thought necessary in 1934. Since that time Japan has invaded China proper and has started on a career of conquest which, if it succeeds, will give the Japanese empire command over something between one-quarter and one-half the population of the globe. She may not succeed. In any event, it will take time for her to consolidate this empire and to mobilize its immense potential power.

But it also takes time, as Sen. Vandenberg pointed out, to build a great navy. It is not the part of prudence to plan for the expansion of our own power so that 5 or 10 years hence we shall not find ourselves relatively so weak that we can no longer talk as equals with the Japanese empire?

This is not all. Since 1934 the greater Germany has come into existence, a Germany seeking colonial expansion in the outer world. Africa is not the only continent into which Germany might expand. There also is South America, and that this is no fantastic possibility may be seen by the recent action of Brazil, which, with first-hand knowledge of the Nazi penetration, has thought it necessary to take very strong measures indeed.

Since 1934 this expanding greater Germany has become the military ally of Japan. This is a new

SAN FRANCISCO — There are about 160,000 lawyers in the United States to help you get a divorce, but how many agencies can give you expert help in staying married?

The latest official count is 32.

That is the number of the "family relations centers" that have sprung up to get Mr. and Mrs. to talk to a consultant instead of a judge.

The San Francisco center, founded in 1928 and claiming to be the first out-and-out marriage counsel institution, handled 161 cases last year.

"It was the woman who brought

HENRY M. GRAND

in her problems in well over half the cases," said Henry M. Grant, director. "This conforms with sociological research findings, that the wife is quicker to admit both to herself and others that a marriage is not a success."

People have been observed to walk up and down before the building for two hours before getting up courage to bring their emotional troubles to a stranger.

The interview is held across a desk in a pleasant, simply furnished room.

"The atmosphere is entirely objective," the director explains. "I show them I don't consider any part of their behavior wrong, and encourage them to give me the facts."

The ideal procedure, he believes, is to have two interviews with the wife, two with the husband, and then talk with them together.

And what about? Grant finds that sex problems are the chief cause of marital unhappiness, with finances and the question of who's boss also important. For a statistical report on the subject, he refers you to opinions of 100 men and 100 women gathered by G. V. Hamilton, psychologist.

The men complained of temperamental dissatisfaction, physical dissatisfaction, lack of personal freedom, illness, and of troubles over children, money and relatives—in that order.

The women went along with them in complaining of temperamental and physical dissatisfaction and lack of personal freedom as first three on the list. From then on they sat down in order finances, lack of affection on their husbands' part, jealousy and "everything wrong."

After study of the returns, the conclusion was that only 51 of the 100 men and 45 of the same number of women had "reasonably satisfactory mates."

The San Francisco institution is an independent agency governed by a board of directors of which prominent physicians form a substantial part.

In addition to the consultations, information is spread by lectures, extension courses, occasional large conventions and by circulating libraries.

That Man's Here Again

Future Bookie Insults Old Race Track Hand; Hints He Can't Even Pick Fourth Place Nag

By DAMON RUNYON

WE have just received from a bookmaker out in Chicago the third issue of his future book offerings on Col. Matt Winn's big horse race in Kentucky next month, and we note that the bookie not only quotes prices against the horses straight, place and show—but also fourth.

It is this fourth place business that causes us to stop and think. We are inclined to the belief that it may be intended as a personal insult. We intend demanding of that bookmaker person proof that the offerings he sent us went out to all his customers without fear or favor.

If we find that we are the sole recipient of his price sheet, we will sue him for defamation of character on the ground that offering us a price that we cannot pick a horse to finish even as good as fourth is a distinct reflection upon our ability as a handicapper. Moreover, it holds us up to the shame and ridicule of the community.

Of course, if everybody got the same offer, there is nothing we can do about it. Then it becomes just a moral lesson to all horse players. It shows what a bookmaker thinks of their judgment in picking horses. Of course, it might be a small challenge to their cupidity, too.

There are 112 entries in Col. Matt Winn's horse race, which is the Kentucky Derby, scheduled to be run at Louisville May 7, listed on the bookmaker's roll. Already quite a number of these horses have demonstrated that their owners would be very silly to pay the starting fee.

They have demonstrated this by great inadequacy in races run this spring. Some of them could not run fast enough to raise a light lather. No horse owner in his right mind is going to throw away his money on starting fees for a steed that does not show it can get out of its own way.

Now if any of the horse players have wagered on these horses in future books, they can kiss their money goodbye. The future books operate on a "pay or play" basis, which means that when the money is wagered and the horse, for any reason, fails to go to the post, the bookie just hits his cash register a few more licks.

THAT, of course is the "strength," or percentage of the future book for the bookie — the horses that fail to go in the race. Probably out of the 112 entries in Col. Matt Winn's big race, not more than 20 will go to the post, and all the money wagered on the other 92 goes into the bookie's till, and the customers never gets a run for it.

If this seems a onesided arrangement, the customer must remember that the reason he is offered fat odds in the future books is the very probability that the horse he is betting on will never start. For instance, we doubt very seriously if a horse called Genuine Sport will go to the barrier on the seventh and the Chicago bookie doubts it, too, because he is offering 1,000 to 1,500 to 1,250 to 1 and 125 to 1 against Genuine Sport finishing first, second, third or fourth.

The uninitiated reader might ask, why does the owner enter the horse, at all if it does not appear probable that it will start? The answer is the horses are entered in the winter, possibly off some promise of future speed that they have developed in workouts, or in races as two-year-olds, the entry fee being comparatively small and worth a gamble for the $50,000 stake.

It does not take but one trial, or one race, to dissipate the promise. Horses either run or cannot run fast enough to associate with class campany. It is something that is very quickly determined by the owner and trainer. It is, of course, possible that this Genuine Sport might start in the race, and even win it, with some fortunate customers holding future book tickets on him at 1,000 to 1, but it is not probable.

To begin with, we doubt that any bookmaker would take a bet of more than a few dollars at 1,000 to 1. Any considerable winning wager at that price would wreck even the mint. We note that the Chicago bookie quotes Col. Maxwell Howard's horse, Stageband, the winter book favorite, at 4 to 1, 2 to 1, even and 1 to 2. You would have to put up two dollars to the

At Long Last

Tax Conferees Finally Agree On Bill, Which Is Not Satisfactory But Best Under Circumstances

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, April 25—A tax bill at last. Business will heave a sign of satisfaction that the uncertainty is ended. But the new law is by no means what it should be, nor does it remove all the features of the present statute which have caused so much concern to business.

From the viewpoint of members of the senate conference committee, who had to give way on some phases of the undistributed surplus tax in order to persuade the house conferees to accept the capital gains tax as proposed by the senate bill, the adjustment is really the best that could be obtained under the circumstances.

Thus, Mr. Roosevelt had command of the house situation and, indeed, the whole congressional position, because, if he insisted on his way and did exercise his veto power on a bill unsatisfactory to him, it would have taken two-thirds to override his veto. It is not certain that there would have been two-thirds in both houses to override his veto on the undistributed surplus tax. A majority was ready to vote against him on the issue, but not anywhere near two-thirds.

The senate conferees did succeed in getting some important modifications of the house bill, which had retained the undistributed profits. Thus, deficits may be carried over so as to exempt a business from a penalty and so also may credit be obtained for payments on debt. But, in any event, irrespective of these two items, a minimum tax of 16½ percent must always be paid on all earnings of corporations.

This, for some businesses, will be better than the 18 percent flat tax in the senate bill. What is most vicious, on the other hand, is the retention of the principle of the undistributed surplus tax, because a business cannot tell until the very end of the year just what its taxes will be, for it is impossible to tell till the year end what the position of a company is to be with respect to the amount that safely can be disbursed for dividends. However, the range of uncertainty has been reduced by the proposal of the conference committee.

THE senate conferees did win an important concession when they succeeded in limiting the new undistributed tax provision to two years. This means that the provision automatically ends two years hence and it will take a 51 percent vote of both houses to get it reenacted, which is a far different position than the senate conferees found themselves in earlier this week with respect to a change in the present law. They faced the fact that it would require presidential approval or else a two-thirds vote over his veto to extricate the penalty-on-thrift tax altogether from our revenue collections.

The ending of the deadlock is a healthful sign. It means that business can now plan at least insofar as the capital gains tax is concerned. For this has been regarded as one of the stumbling blocks on the flow of capital in natural channels. The capital gains tax, it should be stated in all fairness, was passed before the present administration came into power, but its repeal has been consistently opposed until now.

It would seem probable that both houses now will accept the conference committee report as the best obtainable under the conditions that have existed. When the conference committee's report has been adopted, Rep. Fred Vinson, member of the house ways and means committee, will be free to take his seat on the circuit court of appeals of the District of Columbia, to which he was nominated by President Roosevelt and confirmed last December.

Friends of Mr. Vinson insist that he was persuaded to stay on as a member of the house and to delay taking the oath as a justict because of his valuable experience and not because of any collusion with the President, whose position on the tax bill he has so steadfastly upheld. Chairman Doughton of the ways and means committee frankly says he urged Mr. Vinson to stay and help him steer the tax bill through congress.

Mr. Vinson may make a good judge and a fair one, but the incident ought not to pass without public notice of the fact that the President does not hesitate to award life jobs to sitting members of congress even while the two houses are in session, acting on legislation in whose passage he has a political interest.

Peace—A Big Business

By SIGRID ARNE

PEACE has jumped into the "big business" category. More than $2,000,000 will be spent this year to persuade Americans that the rattling of sabers in Europe and the Orient should find no echo here. Millions of people have bought common stock in the enterprise.

Peace societies have snapped their programs into businesslike patterns. Here's an example: A report from one paid worker for the National Council for the Prevention of War (and the council has 50 such):

He took a 15-day speaking tour, traveled 4,834 miles, spoke at 25 meetings, and talked to 51,795 people. He even reduced the report to the expense of "an individual reached." It was $.003—three mills.

It's difficult to estimate how many people have signed peace pledges, joined peace groups, paid dues or just given donations, But a recent survey of peace groups shows:

There are three huge federations that serve as clearing houses for their affiliates.

1. The National Peace conference, which is just starting a campaign to back up Secretary of State Hull's trade treaties, has 39 societies under its wing.

2. The Council for Prevention of War unites 19 organizations.

3. The National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War unites 11 women's groups under the direction of that famous crusader, Carrie Chapman Catt.

Some of these groups are organized for the sole purpose of spreading peace talk. Some, like the Association of University Women, simply have peace programs.

Some of them are beginning to show a significant change of technique. They are turning from just talking to direct political action.

Their most tantalizing problem right now is to make the intangible concept of peace dramatic.

Bruce Barton, the advertising man who is a new member of congress, found one answer.

"Let's advertise the horrors of war," he said.

So he wrote the page ads that have been appearing this year under the name of "World Peaceways," and Estelle Sternberger of New York undertook to get free space for them. Peaceways now has branches in 10 foreign countries.

"Peace caravans" were another answer. They were organized by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. This group has a comparatively small budget, but it drew attention through the efforts of its dramatic leader, the young Dorothy Detzer, whose campaigning zeal was whetted in post-war Europe where she worked for the Quakers.

The very practical National Council for the Prevention of War, headed by Frederick Libby, works through ready-made groups such as labor unions, farmers' clubs and student councils. The council's staff includes Jeanette Rankin, the former congresswoman, whose "no" vote the night congress put us into the World war was a dramatic climax in the roll call.

Together these peace societies have loosed a flood of literature on the country. Just to name a few: Peaceways sends out half a million pieces of literature a year, the League for Peace and Democracy, 400,000; and the Council for Prevention of War, 1,300,000.

BISHOP REJECTS SCIENCE AS KEY TO REDEMPTION

Rev. Rogers In St. Stephen's Episcopal Sermon Says Fear Rules Many

Redemption of the wold will not come from science, Rev. Warren Lincoln Rogers, bishop of the diocese of Ohio, told the congregation of St. Stephen's church here Sunday morning.

The Cleveland minister confirmed a large class prepared by Rev. Russell K. Caulk, preliminary to his sermon. He said God gave us this world for our own use and that one cannot look to science for redemption because there is no soul there.

"The resurrected life of Jesus still is with us though it may not be discerned. Our difficulties lie in trying to do everything with mechanical means.

Fear Rules Heart

"One of the difficulties is the belief there is no good left. Fear rules our hearts almost continually even when there is so much good, true and beautiful. Man is not a very lovely creature, but he has infinite possibilities. Our chance rests on our knees.

Bishop Rogers spoke on the words of Christ, "Ye call me Master and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am."

"Jesus was the Lord and Master because He knew God. Those not interested in God are not inclined to be greatly interested in Jesus, His Son. Those who are solely interested in themselves, in that which they may eat or wear, apparently feel they can get along without Jesus and God.

"But Jesus believed in God; He was supremely God-minded and thus do souls need to be stirred.

"Jesus likewise revealed His Mastership by knowing men. He knew what is in the heart of man. He was the greatest judge of humanity. He ever believed in men though they sometimes let Him down.

Carry On His Work

"If we call Jesus Lord and Master we should carry on His work. The more we think of Jesus as Lord and Master the better we shall get along in the world and the quicker will be the coming of His kingdom.

"It is well for all to reflect whether we are calling Him Lord and Master as we should. Are we seeking to do His will in the world? Are we fully consecrated to Him? We test our lives by love."

Bishop Rogers, addressing the confirmants, gave them the motto, "growth in grace." The day's offering was given to the bishop for the discretionary fund for needy clergymen and their wives and children. No services were held Sunday night.

'Parable Of Sower' Topic Of Pastor's Talk

People find time for everything but attaining a right attitude with God, said Rev. C. O. Bailey, pastor of the First Free Methodist church Sunday morning. His theme was "The Parable of the Sower."

"There are those who maintain they have no time to pray or attend services.

"Time in plenty is found for going to places of amusement. None is late at such events. But the things which God has ordained in the giving of life processes are allowed to pass upon the specious plea of a lack of time. There is need for time to allow the germinating of spiritual seed in individual souls," he concluded.

Delegates Announced For Nazarene Conference

Delegates to the annual Pittsburgh conference of the Nazarene church in Akron on May 2-8 were announced at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday. In all 26 including District Superintendent and Mrs. O. L. Benedum and Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Hanks, will attend.

Other delegates will be Mrs. Emma Durbin, superinendent of the Sunday school; Gail Hutchison, Young People's president; Mrs. W. F. Poland, Missionary secretary; Mrs. W. F. Headley and Dr. and Mrs. J. Howard Sloan, traveling evangelist

The lay delegates will include Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, Mrs. Benjamin Harker, John Rice, W. F. Poland, C. F. Hulse, Charles Sanderson, Mrs. W. F. Brindley, Homer Seevers, Mrs. Louis Sanford, Mrs. James Bise, Mrs. E. A. Peffer, Miss Marie Wolfe and Miss Edith Skidmore.

Wants And Needs Often Are Opposed, Pastor Says

What people want may not be what they really need, maintained Rev. E. E. Sowards, pastor of the First Baptist church, as he outlined Christian giving, Sunday morning. His theme was "The Acid Test."

"Children, ill, sometimes crave the opposite of what physicians prescribe," he noted. "And it is well for adherents of Christianity to be told occasionally of their responsibilities in giving along the lines of scriptural declaration."

He praised the contribution of various Sunday school classes for Easter offerings. "Such offerings would not be necessary if every adherent gave at least a 10th of his income to the work of building up Christ's kingdom on the earth."

Guest Preacher Opens Church Of Christ Services

Dr. Edwin R. Errett of Cincinnati, editor of the denomination's publication, The Christian Standard, delivered two sermons at the First Church of Christ here Sunday to formally open a two-week evangelistic campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Walker of Muncie, Ind., were in charge of the music. Services for children were planned for 4 this afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Walker. Tonight, Dr. Errett will discourse on "Why Stand Gazing Into Heaven?" The evangeistic party members were presented by Rev. D. Park Chapman, the pastor.

TOKYO NAVAL PLANS ANSWER VANDENBERG

fact which congress did not have to consider when the existing plan of the navy was adopted.

In the face of these circumstances is it jingoism or hysteria or sinister war mongering for congress to tell the navy to plan for a navy that is 20 percent larger? I think not. To be sure, it may take years for Japan to achieve her power in China. It may take years for Germany to feel strong enough in Europe to move upon Africa or South America. But it also will take years for us to build this larger navy. If in the meantime a real peace can be negotiated with Germany and Japan, if in the interval the situation changes and we conclude that our present fears are unfounded, there is nothing in this bill which compels future congresses to appropriate the whole sum.

But if our present estimate of the world position is not mistaken, then we shall in the future be glad that we had the foresight to plan an adequate development of our naval power.

FUEL TRANSPORT GAINS OBSERVED FOR RIVER BOATS

Shippers See Considerable Increase For Petroleum And Gasoline Cargoes

Now that winter definitely has disappeared, district waterway authorities report considerable movement of petroleum products from pipe stations to landings and limestone from mines to river ports, as well as a pick-up in gasoline trade.

Petroleum products, distributed from Allegheny and Monongahela river landings by truck, rose in shipping lists in March, Ohio river figures show. Last month figures quoted at 52,341 tons, exceeded February petroleum tonnage of 38,825 on the Ohio.

Stone Shipping Late

Limestone movement started late last month, but 700 tons were downstream from Templeton, Pa., on the Allegheny, none the less. With the opening of the mines and shipment to Monongahela river points comes the report that 40 bargeloads have been requested for road construction.

Pearl Webster's Steel City is one of several steamers supplying downriver stations with gasoline. Zubik Transportation line boats returned from gasoline delivery last week, the Smoky City from Kittanning and the Atlas from Donora.

The steel trade always moves. Up from southern delivery with a load of empties, this side of Natchez is the Monongahela of the Carnegie-Illinois line, in charge of Capt. John A. Hottell.

Fuel Flat Launched

The first of a fleet of three fuel flats measuring 125 feet long, 26 feet wide and nine feet deep with a capacity of 500 tons was launched last week by the Bethlehem Steel Co. The last of the barges, made for the Campbell Transportation Co., will be completed about May 6.

The steamer Omar received tows from the Leone and Prosperity, under charter to the American Barge line, near New Matamoras, W. Va., Saturday, for southern delivery.

In dam 8 river movement, the Charles T. Campbell was up with three empties, the Iron City down with four empties, the Mongah down with six coal barges and up with nine empties, the Shawnee down light and up with one empty and the Standard up with one empty and down with one barge of gasoline.

IT DID HAPPEN HERE—A JEW DEFENDS A NAZI

By a strange coincidence Otto Geissler, 17-year-old Nazi and German citizen, was represented by Jewish Attorney Joseph Ellison when he appeared in New York court to answer a charge of carrying a concealed weapon in connection with the riot between American legionnaires and German-American Bund members at a Hitler birthday celebration. On freeing Geissler, Magistrate Matthew Troy remarked that "it could only happen here," and that "this situation proved the worthwhileness of Americanism." The lawyer was assigned by the magistrate when the defendant said he had no lawyer.

QUIZ PRESSED IN MINE BLAST THAT KILLED 45

Victims Of Virginia Explosion Sent To Homes In 5 States

By The Associated Press.

GRUNDY, Va., April 25.—Representatives of the mine inspection division of the Virginia department or labor sought to determine today the cause of a violent explosion that killed 45 men in the Keen mountain mine of the Red Jacket Coal Co. Friday.

Mine Foreman Henry Cook expressed the conviction there could be but one answer—a coal dust explosion.

Bodies of the victims, burned and blackened by the volcanic-like eruption that hurled massive machinery from the mouth of the mine, traveled to sorrowing homes in five states.

It appeared unlikely that any of the three injured survivors would be able to shed any light on circumstances leading to the blast.

G. W. Elam, the most seriously hurt, continued in a critical condition.

ROOSEVELT ASKS PROMPT ACTION ON TAX REQUEST

legislation should confer the same powers on the states with respect to the taxation of federal bonds hereafter issued as is granted to the federal government with respect to state and municipal bonds hereafter issued."

Turning to the question of taxing the salaries of government employes, the President pointed out that federal taxes are not levied on the incomes of state, county and municipal employes and that the states do not tax the income of federal employes.

In a democracy, he said, those who earn their livelihood from the government should receive the same treatment as those working for private employers.

He then told congress:

"I recommend, therefore, that the congress enact legislation ending tax exemption on government salaries of all kinds, conferring powers on the states with respect to federal salaries and powers to the federal government with respect to state and local government salaries."

The ending of tax exemption, he said, "be it of government securities or of government salaries, is a matter, not of politics, but of principle."

First of Two Messages

On the question of taxing income from securities, Mr. Roosevelt said under the present system "men with great means best able to assume business risks have been encouraged to lock up substantial portions of their funds in tax exempt securities."

"Men with little means who should be encouraged to hold the secure obligations of the federal and state governments have been obliged to pay a relatively higher rate for those securities than the very rich because the tax immunity is of less value to them than to those whose incomes fall in the higher brackets," he added.

The communication on taxes has the first of two important messages which Mr. Roosevelt has proposed to send to congress this week. The other, to be sent before he leaves Friday on a fishing trip, will deal, he said, with revision of anti-trust laws.

Some congressional leaders, however, have expressed the opinion this message will ask only a study looking toward action at the next session.

Besides the request for action on taxes, and what action may be asked on the anti-trust laws, the chief threat to adjournment plans is the revised wage and hour bill, now before the house rules committee.

Wage Bill Snag Continues

This committee, a majority of which opposed consideration of the original wage-hour bill, will decide this week whether to send the new measure to the house floor. There was a possibility some of the Republican committeemen might join with Democratic proponents in voting to give the bill the right-of-way. Southern Democrats generally have opposed it.

Should the bill get to the house floor, leaders said it probably would be approved. It then would go back to the senate, which passed a different wage-hour bill last summer, and there it might encounter extended debate.

In the immediate legislation situation, leaders pressed for final enactment of two key administration proposals—tax revision and naval expansion.

Major provisions of the $5,000,000,000 tax bill have been agreed on by a senate-house committee, which retained a modified levy on undistributed profits. Some legislators expressed hope the bill could go to the White House by Friday.

The $1,156,000,000 naval expansion program, already approved by the house, drew renewed opposition in the senate today, but leaders forecast passage by mid-week.

The house leadership, awaiting committee action on the President's lending-spending program, arranged a "mopping up" scheduled for this week to get secondary measures out of the way.

Only three major bills—housing, farm and emergency relief—have been enacted. One administration proposal—the government reorganization bill—was shelved by the house.

SPENDING FOES FIGHT BLANK CHECK TO WPA

position today and would not be facing another crisis."

"I feel they ought to go through that process now," he added, "but I'm not going to put my judgment against all the recommendations that have been set to congress by the President."

In a minority report, two Republican members of the senate unemployment committee recommended that federal relief machinery be overhauled to give more local control.

Declaring that distribution of funds among states for supplying jobs to the unemployed "had not been carried out on a scientific or factual basis," Senators Davis of Pennsylvania and Lodge of Massachusetts demanded that the money be divided "in accordance with the principle of greatest need."

They agreed with the majority's finding, made public last week by Chairman Byrnes (D) of South Carolina, that repeal of the undistributed profits tax and modification of the capital gains tax would be "exceedingly helpful" in combatting unemployment.

BISHOP REJECTS SCIENCE AS KEY TO REDEMPTION

Rev. Rogers In St. Stephen's Episcopal Sermon Says Fear Rules Many

Redemption of the wold will not come from science, Rev. Warren Lincoln Rogers, bishop of the diocese of Ohio, told the congregation of St. Stephen's church here Sunday morning.

The Cleveland minister confirmed a large class prepared by Rev. Russell K. Caulk, preliminary to his sermon. He said God gave us this world for our own use and that one cannot look to science for redemption because there is no soul there.

"The resurrected life of Jesus still is with us though it may not be discerned. Our difficulties lie in trying to do everything with mechanical means.

Fear Rules Heart

"One of the difficulties is the belief there is no good left. Fear rules our hearts almost continually even when there is so much good, true and beautiful. Man is not a very lovely creature, but he has infinite possibilities. Our chance rests on our knees.

Bishop Rogers spoke on the words of Christ, "Ye call me Master and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am."

"Jesus was the Lord and Master because He knew God. Those not interested in God are not inclined to be greatly interested in Jesus, His Son. Those who are solely interested in themselves, in that which they may eat or wear, apparently feel they can get along without Jesus and God.

"But Jesus believed in God; He was supremely God-minded and thus do souls need to be stirred.

"Jesus likewise revealed His Mastership by knowing men. He knew what is in the heart of man. He was the greatest judge of humanity. He ever believed in men though they sometimes let Him down.

Carry On His Work

"If we call Jesus Lord and Master we should carry on His work. The more we think of Jesus as Lord and Master the better we shall get along in the world and the quicker will be the coming of His kingdom.

"It is well for all to reflect whether we are calling Him Lord and Master as we should. Are we seeking to do His will in the world? Are we fully consecrated to Him? We test our lives by love."

Bishop Rogers, addressing the confirmants, gave them the motto, "growth in grace." The day's offering was given to the bishop for the discretionary fund for needy clergymen and their wives and children. No services were held Sunday night.

'Parable Of Sower' Topic Of Pastor's Talk

People find time for everything but attaining a right attitude with God, said Rev. C. O. Bailey, pastor of the First Free Methodist church Sunday morning. His theme was "The Parable of the Sower."

"There are those who maintain they have no time to pray or attend services.

"Time in plenty is found for going to places of amusement. None is late at such events. But the things which God has ordained in the giving of life processes are allowed to pass upon the specious plea of a lack of time. There is need for time to allow the germinating of spiritual seed in individual souls," he concluded.

Delegates Announced For Nazarene Conference

Delegates to the annual Pittsburgh conference of the Nazarene church in Akron on May 2-8 were announced at the First Church of the Nazarene Sunday. In all 26 including District Superintendent and Mrs. O. L. Benedum and Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Hanks, will attend.

Other delegates will be Mrs. Emma Durbin, superinendent of the Sunday school; Gail Hutchison, Young People's president; Mrs. W. F. Poland, Missionary secretary; Mrs. W. F. Headley and Dr. and Mrs. J. Howard Sloan, traveling evangelist

The lay delegates will include Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Davis, Mrs. Benjamin Harker, John Rice, W. F. Poland, C. F. Hulse, Charles Sanderson, Mrs. W. F. Brindley, Homer Seevers, Mrs. Louis Sanford, Mrs. James Bise, Mrs. E. A. Peffer, Miss Marie Wolfe and Miss Edith Skidmore.

Wants And Needs Often Are Opposed, Pastor Says

What people want may not be what they really need, maintained Rev. E. E. Sowards, pastor of the First Baptist church, as he outlined Christian giving, Sunday morning. His theme was "The Acid Test."

"Children, ill, sometimes crave the opposite of what physicians-prescribe," he noted. "And it is well for adherents of Christianity to be told occasionally of their responsibilities in giving along the lines of scriptural declaration."

He praised the contribution of various Sunday school classes for Easter offerings. "Such offerings would not be necessary if every adherent gave at least a 10th of his income to the work of building up Christ's kingdom on the earth."

IT'S STILL FIVE CENTS

Guest Preacher Opens Church Of Christ Services

Dr. Edwin R. Errett of Cincinnati, editor of the denomination's publication, The Christian Standard, delivered two sermons at the First Church of Christ here Sunday to formally open a two-week evangelistic campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Walker of Muncie, Ind., were in charge of the music. Services for children were planned for 4 this afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. Walker. Tonight, Dr. Errett will discourse on "Why Stand Gazing Into Heaven?" The evangeistic party members were presented by Rev. D. Park Chapman, the pastor.

fact which congress did not have to consider when the existing plan of the navy was adopted.

In the face of these circumstances is it jingoism or hysteria or sinister war mongering for congress to tell the navy to plan for a navy that is 20 percent larger? I think not. To be sure, it may take years for Japan to achieve her power in China. It may take years for Germany to feel strong enough in Europe to move upon Africa or South America. But it also will take years for us to build this larger navy. If in the meantime a real peace can be negotiated with Germany and Japan, if in the interval the situation changes and we conclude that our present fears are unfounded, there is nothing in this bill which compels future congresses to appropriate the whole sum.

But if our present estimate of the world position is not mistaken, then we shall in the future be glad that we had the foresight to plan an adequate development of our naval power.

FRENCH CABINET BACKS PLAN OF REHABILITATION

Daladier Program To Be Put Into Effect By Series Of Decrees Next Sunday

By The Associated Press.

PARIS, April 25 — Premier Edouard Daladier today announced cabinet approval of a plan for French economic and financial rehabilitation, drawn up with emphasis on increased production and continued freedom in foreign exchange and maintenance of the monetary accord with Britain and the United States.

The plan will be put into effect by a series of decrees to be submitted to the cabinet next Sunday. The Daladier cabinet is governing under decree powers voted by parliament just before the Easter recess.

While the premier prepared for sweeping treatment of domestic issues, a potent military and diplomatic pact to align France and Britain against war danger in Europe appeared in the making.

On the domestic side, Daladier told the press after today's cabinet meeting that the fundamental aim of his plan was to increase production in industry, which he admitted had fallen below other European production in almost all fields.

Leslie Hore-Belisha, British war minister just back from a scouting expedition in the Mediterranean area, conferred with Gen. Marie Gustave Gamelin, chief of the French army's general staff, on ways and means of coordinating operations of the Franco-British armed forces in the event of conflict.

Premier Daladier, turning for the moment from France's own unsettled internal affairs, prepared to fly to London with foreign minister George Bonnet to survey the international situation and decide on the best means of joint action.

Officials declined to reveal any details of Hore-Belisha's talk with Gen. Gamelin, which was described as a "preliminary survey" of the ground which will be covered in detail when Daladier and Bonnet meet in London with the high officials who direct England's policies.

EAST LIVERPOOL BAND TIES FOR OHIO TITLE

participated in the contest. Dennison, which earned an excellent rating at Bridgeport, was dropped to a very good grade in the Class BB contest. Smithfield, adjudged superior and Dillonvale excellent in the Class C contest at Bridgeport, were rated as very good in the state meet.

Potters To Pass Up Regional Event

Bands with the highest rating in the superior groups will be eligible to participate in the regional contest. East Liverpool probably will not make the trip, although Fremont and Steubenville are already making plans to enter. Lisbon will go to the regional classic to participate in the Class B competition. Two years ago the county seat musicians traveled to Des Moines, Iowa, for the national contest. There will be no national tournament this year, the country having been divided into five parts for regional meets.

Members of the local band did not return to their home here until about 4 a. m. Sunday, safe but tired from their nearly 375-mile journey. It was nearly 10 Saturday night when the local bandsmen left the capital, waiting until the contest results were announced.

WAR DECLARED!

That Was 40 Years Ago Today When Congress Took Action Against The Spanish

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Congress declared war against Spain 40 years ago today in one of the most tense sessions of its history.

It was silence that brought about the historic vote—silence from Spain after the United States had spent her an ultimatum demanding she get out of Cuba, then torn by revolution.

The ultimatum expired on noon of April 23, but already there was a virtual state of war. On the previous day President McKinley had proclaimed a blockade of Santiago, Cuba, and of the north Cuban coast.

ROTARY TO NOMINATE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Member Of State Highway Patrol Will Address Club Tuesday

Nominations for the board of directors and a talk by a member of the state highway patrol will mark the Rotary luncheon Tuesday in Travelers hotel. Frank Dawson will be chairman.

Nominations for the board will be made Tuesday and May 2, with elections May 9. Present members of the seven-man board are: A. L. White, president; Paul Hutchman, vice president, and Francis Lang, Albert E. Frosch, T. H. Fisher, Robert Boyce and W. H. Locke Anderson.

Election of officers, on the same basis of nominations in two successive meetings and election on the third probably will take place next month. Other present officers are: Harold B. Barth, secretary; Richard Chambers, treasurer, and Don Trotter, sergeant-at-arms.

"Good-by" is a contraction of "God be with ye."

News and Gossip of the Stage and Screen

DEANNA DURBIN MAKES ANOTHER HIT IN FAIRY TALE OF SCHOOL GIRL

Charming Child's Story Has Aid Of Excellent Music

"Mad About Music," now at the State, is just about the most pleasing entertainment in recent movie history, East Liverpool fans will probably agree.

The picture has to do with a delightful girl's school in a delightful Swiss village, and has all the elements of a fairy story, with the addition of near-plausibility.

Deanna Durbin, daughter of a widowed movie star, Gail Patrick, has told her schoolmates that her "father" is a famous explorer. Herbert Marshall, a composer happening on the scene by accident, consents to act as her father. The windup is neatly executed when Marshall unites Deanna and her mother, in Paris on personal appearances; all ends well, with Marshall and Gail romantically paired.

Miss Durbin, unaffected and capable as an actress, does very well with three excellent songs: "Serenade To The Stars," "Chapel Bells" and "I Love To Whistle." Marshall excels, as you know he would, in the role of mundane bachelor who sympathetically understands a wistful schoolgirl. Very good are Miss Patrick, Arthur Treacher as Marshall's "man," William Frawley as Miss Patrick's manager and Christian Rub as the bespectacled and bewhiskered concierge.

The plot is neatly-turned and compact; you will approve highly of the bashful conversation between Deanna and Jackie Moran, military school pupil, and the understanding schoolmistresses who make Deanna write "Young ladies should not put nails in other young ladies' bicycles" on the blackboard 200 times.

The March of Time on the program reporting police indentification of missing persons, conversion of southern pines into newspaper and occupations of white Russians 20 years after the red revolution, is worthwhile, as are the Mickey-Mouse-Donald Duck and newsreel of the Giants' baseball opener. J.C.B.

RETURNS IN SPECTACLE

Playing in her first film since the death of her husband, Irving Thalberg, Norma Shearer will soon appear in "Marie Antoinette," said to be one of the year's most lavishly costumed roles.

GRAVET AND LOMBARD SET TONGUES WAGGING IN GAY LOVE COMEDY

'Fools For Scandal' Gives Sophistication At Best

In these days when we are fairly bombarded with sophisticated comedy in our movie fare, the only way to judge one is to compare it with the others. "Fools for Scandal," which opened Sunday at the Ceramic theater is, by this comparison, one of the best.

Carol Lombard plays the leading feminine role, and in this one she doesn't get socked. You would hardly expect her to, with the leading man played by Fernand Gravet, that fascinating little French-Belgian gnome.

The story is about an American actress making an English picture who spends a week-end incognito in Paris. It's quite international, you see. There she is picked up by a penniless marquis. She is charmed by him, but he falls in love with her. When she returns to London he follows her, secures a position as her chef and sets all Savoy's tongues wagging.

Ralph Bellamy, her insurance salesman fiance, is completely confused by Carole's interfering lover and tries desperately to get her to come to America with him and get married. But she finally falls in love with her chef.

Carole is the same as ever, no one else but Carole Lombard, but Gravet creates a real and truly enjoyable character. He is amusing and charming. It is perhaps just a little unfortunate that he looks like Charlie McCarthy, or that McCarthy is a caricature of Gravet.

There is an able supporting cast, including Allen Jenkins, Isabel Jeans and Marie Wilson. There are many good scenes, including the too brief Harlem number and perfect dinner for two served by Gravet which baffles the simple-hearted Bellamy.

It is fun, frothy and fresh. It will do much to keep up Miss Lombard's popularity and will certainly earn more good pictures for Gravet. C.L.

POSTOFFICE TO ISSUE CACHET ON AIR MAIL

possible the expansion of air mail service.

The aim here, Mr. Benedum said, is to have every patron of the postoffice mail at least one air mail letter during the week.

The cachet, now is being prepared through the cooperation of the manufacturers' committee of the Chamber of Commerce, will be imprinted on every piece of mail on which air mail postage rates are paid. It will be used, however, only during air mail week.

In addition to being of special interest to collectors of stamps and first-day covers, it will serve a two-fold purpose—that of air mail promotion and also supporting the Japanese boycott movement started here some months ago.

All postoffices in the country have been authorized to prepare and use their own cashets. Postoffices in Wellsville and Midland are also planning using cachets.

2 Official Cachets

There will be two official cachets issued by the postoffice department, one to be used in Kitty Hawk, N. C., designated as the "birthplace of aviation," and the other at Dayton, O., home of Orville Wright where the first airplane was constructed. These cachets will be used on mail postmarked May 19 only. Covers properly prepared or endorsed and sent to these postmasters will be held for the May 19 postmarked and given the official cachet.

A new air mail stamp will be issued by the postoffice and sold throughout the United States during the week. The first-day sale will be in Kitty Hawk.

The schools, civic and fraternal clubs, service groups, manufacturers and businessmen of the community are expected to take part in the celebration here, details of which will be announced by Mr. Benedum after they have been worked out.

Schwartz's In Majority

BERNE, Ind.—Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schwartz have a child in each of the eight grades of the Monroe Township school near here. The family is of the Amish religion sect. Schwartz is a familiar name in the school. All of the children that have that name belong to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schwartz, but 18 of the 28 pupils in the school respond to the name of Schwartz. Six have the last name of Hilty.

NAZIS SEEK RELEASE FROM CZECHS' RULE

tricts would subject Jews and Socialists residing there to Nazi "despotism."

In its relations with the Polish minority, it has become known to the Czech government that the Henlein party has been in touch with the Polish legation in Praha.

The government also thought it not unlikely his men had been in touch with Hungarian revisionists, observers pointing out that in recent weeks there had been a concentric attack on Czechoslovakia, not only in the German press but also in that of Hungary and Poland.

(At Budapest yesterday, 20,000 members of the Hungarian Revision league, sponsoring its first legally permitted meeting since 1933, demanded return of upper Hungary, now a part of Czechoslovakia.

(From Warsaw, Poland, came reports that political circles there were aroused by reports a Polish balloon, drifting over the border, had been fired upon by Czechoslvak border guards and the balloon's two occupants arrested.)

Berlin Press Declares Henlein Demands Moderate

By The Associated Press.

BERLIN, April 25.—The Voelkischer Beobachter, Chancellor Adolf Hitler's newspaper, today described the demands of Konrad Henlein as moderate compared with the suffering and oppression of 3,500,000 Germans in the Czechoslovak state.

Sudeten Germans in claiming their "rights" are facing the facts in a clear and distinct attiude, the paper said.

On Henlein's public profession of Nazism the paper remarks, "Great ideas cannot be stopped on the frontiers. Praha will have to agree with this fact."

COUNTY WPA ASSIGNS 90 ON WORK PROJECTS

110 More To Report For Assignment As Rolls Are Enlarged

By The Associated Press.

LISBON, April 25.—Columbiana county WPA rolls, expanding under the program of creating more jobs, today added 90, with 110 more to report Tuesday for assignment to work-relief projects.

WPA officials said 50 of today's allotment were placed on the East Palestine street program, the balance going to the county-wide road project.

The men assigned tomorrow will go on the county work. It is expected more will be given work later in the week.

CYCLING PAIR INJURED IN CRASH WITH AUTO

Woman Hurt In County Car Collision Sunday

Two Wellsville boys were injured in a county collision over the weekend.

The condition of Ronney Lewis of Buckeye ave., and Jay Mathess of 220 Clark ave., Wellsville, was fairly good this morning, according to City hospital.

The youths suffered face lacerations when their bicycle ran into the side of a car driven east on Main st., by Peter Thrasher of Buckeye st., Saturday night.

The Lewis boy was riding the bicycle with young Mathess on the handlebars The collision occured at the corner of Main and 12th st., Wellsville police said the bicycle had no lights.

Hurt in the county crash was Mrs. Fern Singhaus of Canton, riding with Floyd Murphy, also of Canton. According to Deputy Sheriff Mike Duty and Highway Partolman Corp. W. E. Arey, who investigated, Murphy's car was involved in a crash with one operated by Jack Blatt of Charlefoi, Pa. The mishap occurred on route 45 near Eagleton Glen Sunday.

STATE'S 1937 LICENSE TAG SALE SETS RECORD

$25,348,500 Realized By Ohio From Unprecedented Returns

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., April 25 — An unprecedented income of $25,348,500 from the sale of 1937 automobile license tags was revealed today by records in the office of State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson.

This compared with $22,763,000 collected in 1936.

Local governments, which receive 77 percent of the net income, were paid a total of $16,382,528 from the 1937 collections, a gain of $1,985,300 over what they received in 1936 and a boost of $2,992,400 over 1935.

Administration expenses of the state bureau of motor vehicles and the state highway patrol are deducted before cities, townships and counties receive their percentage. The state highway department receives the other 23 percent.

STOCKS DECLINE IN LIGHT TRADING

Steel, Motor And Specialty Shares Prominent Among Sliding Securities

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 25. — Stocks wilted under a light selling mist in today's market.

The back-down was accomplished on exceptionally small volume, with the ticker tape frequently motionless for a minute or so. Declines ranged from fractions to around a point near the fourth hour.

Steels, motors and specialties were prominent in the slide. Rails and utilities put up a fair amount of resistance, but the majority were behind minus signs.

The French franc displayed a burst of strength in terms of the dollar as Premier Daladier announced cabinet approval of plans for financial rehabilitation. Foreign markets were somewhat nervous over the latest Czechoslovakian crisis.

Bonds were no more than irregular, but major commodities pointed lower.

Lacking much support from the start were shares of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown, Republic, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Goodrich, J. I. Case, Douglas Aircraft, Standard Oil of N. J., Westinghouse, Du Pont, Anaconda, Kennecott, Allis Chalmers and Union Carbide.

Recurring labor difficulties in automotive centers, in addition to forecasts of sour first quarter earnings statements for the principal manufacturers in this line, helped depress motors.

Tire company issues failed to derive much cheer from a trade summary indicating stocks in the hands of dealers were down substantially with retail distribution greatly exceeding dealer purchases.

Holders of the steels found little encouragement in the survey of the magazine "Steel" which reported buying of the metal continued to lag behind seasonal expectations.

"While inventories of steel consumers have been reduced materially," the review pointed out, some having cleared their accumulations, a survey by sellers reveals that stocks are still large in the case of others."

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, April 25.—Wheat declined a cent a bushel in Chicago early today. The chief selling incentive was favorable weather conditions in domestic winter crop territory.

Opening ½ to 1 cent lower, May 83¼-⅜, July 81-81¼, wheat futures then held steady. Corn started unchanged to ¼ off, May ⅛-¼, July 60-¾-⅞.

SCHOOL DRAMA GROUP ENTERS PLAY CONTEST

Five Local Students Will Compete For Thespian Honors At Kent

Five members of the drama clubs in the high school here will compete in the annual one-act play contest sponsored by the National Thespians at Kent State university, Friday and Saturday.

Barbara White, Catherine McGowan, Robert Finley, James Calhoun and Don Davis will present "Last Flight Over" by Allean Lemmon.

Miss Kathryn Ogilvie of the high school faculty, dramatic group adviser, will direct the group and accompany it to the Kent competition.

Last year the local group, which is a member of the National Thespians organization, received a superior rating on its presentation. Harry Wildblood, now a student at Wooster college and a participant in dramatic productions there, was selected as a member of the honorary regional cast.

Approximately 100 students, representing 16 schools, entered the 1937 competition. A larger representation is expected this year.

THREE 'LOVER'S LANE' SLAYERS DIE IN CHAIR

Youths Pay With Lives For Holdup That Netted Only 41 Cents

By The Associated Press.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., April 25—Three men died in Pennsylvania's oaken electric chair early today for a "lover's lane" holdup slaying that netted them 41 cents.

They were Edward Rose and John Oreszak, both 21, and Theodore Duminiak, 20, all of Chester, Pa., members of a gang which the judge who condemned them to die called "the worst that ever came out of Chester."

The state charged the trio surprised Floyd Tranon, 38-year-old Negro, and a girl friend parked in a car on a lonely road near Chester in July 1936. They shot Tranon as he attempted to flee after surrendering all his money and then attacked Tranon's companion.

With the exception of Rose, who mumbled a prayer while the guards were fixing the straps, the three died without speaking.

30 KILLED BY REBEL BOMBS AT VALENCIA

British Sailor Dies, Three Injured In Air Attack

By The Associated Press.

MADRID, April 25.—Thirty persons were killed, including a British sailor, and more than 50 injured today when insurgent airplanes resumed bombardment of Valencia, former Spanish government capital on the Mediterranean coast. Three British sailors were wounded.

Valencia had not been bombed for more than two months.

The dead sailor belonged to the crew of the Stanlake, the wounded to the Celtic Star, both British vessels in the harbor at Valencia. First reports did not indicate whether either was hit directly.

By The Associated Press.

HENDAYE, France (at the Spanish frontier), April 25.—The fury of the insurgent attack increased today in all sectors of the 100-mile battlefront zig-zagging through eastern Spain from Teruel to the Mediterranean near Alcala De Chivert.

Surprise offensives from three directions coordinated the operations of insurgent forces on the recently dormant Teruel front, with troops fighting southward along the coast toward Castellon and Valencia.

Insurgent strategy of the moment appeared to be to flatten out the ragged line connecting Teruel with the coast.

Although government resistance was reported as negligible between Albocacer and the coast, 18 miles to the east, Generalissimo Francisco Franco was believed to be deliberately holding back his forces on the coastal road to Castellon in order to prevent them becoming over-extended and subject to the danger of a government flanking attack.

The strongest government resistance was reported in the Sierra De Valgancha sector, northwest of Albocacer on the line to Morella, where the insurgents were able to advance only after extensive artillery preparation and then only with difficulty. They poured 4,000 shells into one government hill position before "softening" it sufficiently.

And then it was necessary to make four infantry attacks before the insurgent red and gold banner could be planted atop the peak.

Violent rain storms hampered the insurgent campaign.

TROLLEYS RUN AGAIN AS OHIO STRIKE ENDS

Union Men Given Three-Cent Hourly Wage Increase

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, O., April 25—Street cars rumbled in Columbus again today and office and factory employes, who spent a week thumbing rides and walking, rode as usual to work.

Settlement late Saturday of a strike by members of the Amalgamated Association of Electric Railway and Motor Bus Employes, A. F. of L., brought three cents an hour increase in pay to about 50 men, one week's vacation with pay to all employes, company recognition of the union and a union committee to investigate ability of new employes.

Car service was resumed yesterday. President Ben W. Marr of the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., operator of the transportation system, refused comment on the settlement.

FUND TO HELP YOUTH NEEDS BUT $100 NOW

$205 On Hand To Buy Limb For Crippled Boy

Contributions for the fund sponsored by the Junior Women's club, to furnish artificial legs for a 17-year old Dry Run boy, today amounted to $205.50.

The estimated cost of the limbs, first placed at $350, was reduced to $300. This leaves less than $100 to be raised in order to purchase the equipment needed for the victim to walk again.

Contributions received during the past week include $25 from the Kiwanis club, $10 each from the ladies auxiliary to East Liverpool American Legion post 4, and the East Liverpool Shrine club, and $5 from the Sunday school class of the First Presbyterian church, taught by Mrs. Edward Kell.

Contributions will be received until the end of the week by Miss Ruth Blazer at the Potters Savings & Loan Co.

M. E. MISSION GROUPS PLAN DISTRICT MEET

Columbiana Church To Be Host To All Societies Tuesday

Special To The Review.

COLUMBIANA, April 25. — The Columbiana Methodist Episcopal church will be host to Women's Foreign Missionary societies of all churches in the Steubenville district Tuesday.

Dr. Marian Manly of China will be the main speaker in the afternoon. The meeting will open at 9:30 a. m. with auxiliary and district officers' reports. A box luncheon will be held at noon, and the afternoon session will begin at 1 p. m.

EAST PALESTINE

Margaret Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Anderson, who live north of here, has been chosen queen for the yearbook at Baldwin-Wallace college at Berea.

Miss Anderson, who is a sophomore, was among 176 candidates whose pictures were sent to Hollywood to be selected by Gracie Allen, George Burns and Russell Patterson.

The beauty queen's photograph will appear in the publication, the 'Grind-Stone', scheduled to be issued at graduation time.

Miss Anderson graduated from the East Palestine high school.

East Palestine's Rifle team lost to McDonald 961 to 920 in a match Friday night which brought down the current on the indoor schedule for the Penn-Ohio league.

McDonald won first place in the second round, New Castle having captured top honors in the first round.

The local team will begin practice soon at a new 100-yard outdoor range, which is now nearing completion. It is the plan to have matches on the new range during the summer months.

The committees selected to handle the affairs at the East Palestine Country club for the season which opened this Sunday include:

House committee: Mrs. R. N. Logan, R. N. Logan and Archibald Jones.

The Sunlit Road

By TOM T. JONES

ON May 22, 1905, R. E. Rayman was reelected superintendent of the East Liverpool schools at a salary of $2,500 a year for three years. At this same session the board of education ordered diplomas for 40 members of the senior class who were to graduate June 2.

The motto of that graduating class nearly 33 years ago was "Our road is onward." Members included Lillian C. Bailey, Margaret Herst Barnes, Adrian Baum, Olive Morrison Birkett, DeWitt Crawford, Sarah M. Cope, Esther Lavina Davidson, William J. Geon, Christiana Hailes, Inez Isabella Hanley, Arnold W. Hune, Louis K. Manley, Mary Sophie McCann, Ida Clare McConnell, Alice Irene McDevitt, Elizabeth Firestone McDole.

Swaney Hall, Hugh Lawrence McNicol, Mabel G. Meakin, Frederick A. Mountford, Helen Peach, Earl C. Powell, Alfred E. and Edward Milton Pratt, Clarence O. Price, Anna E. Rigby, Ina Ross, Sarah Elizabeth Rosensteel, Elsie Shepp, Mattie Allen Shaw, Mary Elizabeth Smith, Louis V. Steinfeld, Mabel Claire Swan, Margaret Lucille Thomas, Blanche Crawford Trenle, Harry G. Warrick, Blanche Folson Webber and Thomas Wynn.

The class of 1906 was slightly larger than that of 1905, the number of graduates being 47. They included:

Jessie E. Andrews, Ethel Jewell Boyd, Mabel F. Crowe, Anna Marion Carson, Tillie Foutts, Clara M. Smith, Nellie A. Frost, Olive J. Hall, Amy Hales, Ethelyn Hobbs, Florence B. Knowles, Edna M. Kannal, Hazel M. Laughlin, Madge M. Moore, Miriam E. HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS TO GIVE PLAY IN MAY

Comedy Chosen Written By Author Of Previous Hit

The senior class of the high school will present its annual play in the high school auditorium Thursday and Friday, May 19 and 20, officials revealed today.

"Skidding," a comedy, will be the production. It is by Aurania Rouverol, the author of "Growing Pains," which was an outstanding success here when presented by the high school seniors two years ago.

This year's production ran for a year on Broadway and is the basis for the moving picture series depicting the doings of "Judge Hardy's Family."

A cast of 10 seniors will present the comedy. While it is not a production of the drama clubs, Miss Kathryn Ogilvie, Miss Mary Lister, Matthew Curry and Joseph Robbins, faculty advisers of the dramatic groups direct the play.

Mary G. Blake and Mary Alice Bernard, students, have been placed in charge of publicity. The cast probably will be announced this week.

SIDELITES Of LIFE

Reel Reunion

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — Mrs. John Henry Stevens' first glimpse of her sailor son in seven years—in a newsreel—left her "mightily upset" today.

It wasn't the sight of John Henry Jr. being welcomed home from the navy games in the Pacific by his wife and baby that "upset" Mrs. Stevens.

"Imagine," she exclaimed, "my fifth grandchild and I havent heard about it yet."

"Station C. O. P. S. Calling"

BALTIMORE—Night club patrons looked up in surprise when this announcement came through the microphone of the master of ceremonies:

"Squad car 27, go to North and Greenmount—a drunk."

The master of ceremonies looked surprised, too. He hadn't said a word.

Investigation disclosed the club's loud speaker system was picking up broadcasts from the police station a few blocks away.

STEEL BUYING SHOWS NO SIGNS OF INCREASE

Auto Plants Absence From Market Continues To Hurt Industry

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, April 25. — The magazine Steel today said steel buying shows no inclination of gaining in volume.

Immediate prospects, the publication said, are for a continuation of the present rate of activity with some observers of the opinion that the peak production for the first was reached the early part of April.

It pointed out that continued absence of the various branches of the automotive industry from the market had removed an important demand factor and that signs indicate little buying will be done for that outlet before mid-year.

Only slight changes were made in operating schedules last week with the national rate up half a point to 32.5 percent. Showing gains were: Chicago half a point to 30.5, Wheeling 13 points to 44, Buffalo 2 points to 30, Cincinnati 27 points to 45 and Cleveland 7.8 points to 30.8 percent.

Sundown Stories

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

The Sea Lions

"YOU don't want to go up North, do, you?" Willy Nilly asked the sea lions as they played around in their pool.

"No," one of them barked, "we like the show. We have good fun.

"The seals are not so fond of being away from home as we are. They, you know, have little, blunt flippers, covered with hair and edged with sharp claws. Our flippers are flat and three-cornered and hairless. You can tell the difference between the two families that way. Then, too, the seal has a shorter neck.

"He doesn't like to perform because there isn't so much he can do. His flippers aren't very strong and he doesn't enjoy games the way we do."

The sea lions were splashing and barking and diving and doing all sorts of tricks.

"You're all going to leave me soon," said Willy Nilly. "I had a letter from your owner, and messages, too, when his friend came to fetch the walrus. He says he'll be along for you almost any day now."

"We must practice our tricks," barked the sea lions. And as Willy Nilly told the others this news, too, they all began to try out their acts, or, if they had no acts, they merely looked out over their yards as though they were seeing a great many people.

That very night the owner of the wild animal show arrived, together with the drivers of the automobile vans, and a few others.

How proud the little man was to think that he had had wild animal guests for a winter and that it had been a peaceful, lovely season.

Physician Says Neglect Causes Shortened Life

Marked Increase Noticed In Middle-Age Deaths But Decrease In Others

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

A RECENT report of the United States public health service indicates that the expectancy of long life is greater now than ever before. An infant born today has the prospect of living 12 years longer than was expected of its parents at their birth. The expectancy of life in 1900 was 49 years, while the expectation of today's baby is 61 years.

But we must not be misled by statistics. In this matter, for example, we are dealing with babies in the mass; the individual baby may not have so bright a prospect. Whether by bad luck or by chance or whatnot, the youngster may die young. I recently pointed out to you that there has been a marked increase in disease of the middle-aged and the number of deaths.

If we carefully examine the statistics, we discover many interesting facts. The disease of the young are better controlled than they were in former years. Boys born in cities are likely to live longer than girls. The children of cities are healthier than those of the country. This must mean that the health conditions, sanitation and hygiene are better in cities than in rural sections.

Not Understood

In former years the life expectancy of man was definitely influenced by many diseases that were imperfectly understood. A baby born in Rome during Nero's time had an expectation of life at birth of not more than 20 to 25 years. In England around 1800 it is estimated that it was around 38 years. As knowledge increased, particularly concerning the disease of childhood, there was a steady decrease in the death rate.

But all these things do not make certain by any means that the expectation of life will continue to increase, or that the individual's hope of life is growing brighter. The future span of life depends entirely upon the control of such diseases as cancer, diabetes, heart disease, kidney disorders, "strokes" and other tragedies of middle life. Many of these disorders are neglected and only brought to the attention of the doctor after a catastrophe has occurred.

Health authorities believe that by careful periodic health examinations it will be possible to decrease these serious disorders. If they are properly attended to, there is no doubt that the average span of life will be markedly lengthened.

Tri-State 4-H Club News

Columbiana County

The Lucky Girls 4-H club organized and elected Florence Rice president in Salineville recently. The first meeting was held at the Brush Creek Grange hall. Other officers elected are Mary Rose, vice president; Rebecca Rhodes, secretary; Helen Rose, treasurer; Catherine Rhodes, news reporter, and Mary Beadnell, recreation leader.

The nutrition project, "Building Better Bodies," was chosen by the club for the year's work.

Hancock County

"Vocations" will be the topic discussed at the Senior 4-H council meeting Tuesday night at the home of Doris Huff in Pughtown. The vocational guidance committee composed of Eleanor Nichol, Mary Dorothy Cole and William Highfield will be in charge. This committee outlines programs relative to choosing a suitable vocation. They plan to bring well informed people to the aid of the council members in this matter.

True 4-H members practice the rules of courtesy, according to the April issue of the West Virginia 4-H suggestions. Various counties have contests and programs to give suggestions for "social simonizing." It is said that true courtesy is more than merely being polite and observing the rules of good manners or etiquette. It comes from the heart and is consideration of others — their feelings, rights, comforts, pleasure and happiness.

Hancock County 4-H's will have a chance to learn and practice the rules of good behaviour through their programs on courtesy, through demonstrations and through the 4-H Courtesy contest. This was held last year at county camp and was won by Rita Wehner and Bobby Oyster.

The contest will be held at camps again this year but with some difference. Those entering will be judged not only on knowledge of proper practices but also on how these practices are observed.

Friday night the first group of one act plays was given by the 4-H clubs this year. These plays were presented at Pughtown by the Seneca, Cayuga, and Sharpshooters clubs. The Seneca play, "Almost Trouble," directed by Martha Troop, concerns the situations that arise when a newly-married couple receives unexpected calls from former sweethearts. Their efforts to conceal these callers supply good entertainment.

"A Birthday Gift for Dad," the play of the Cayuga club directed by Angela Slate, concerns a bargain-hunting woman who buys a diamond for her husband's birthday gift. While she chuckles over her grand bargain, the husband learns that it is nothing but glass.

In the play "Moon Signs" superstitious Uncle Zeke almost prevents a happy marriage because he tries to persuade a young girl that she should postpone her wedding until the signs are favorable. Mrs. William Oyster directs this play for the Sharpshooters.

A silver offering was taken to add to the county camp scholarship fund.

Beaver County

The Happy 4-H Cooking club of Hookstown was organized at the home of Mrs. D. E. Mackall Saturday afternoon when 19 members enrolled and elected the following officers:

Jane Crooks, president; Dorothy Jean Shane, vice president; Belva Robinson, secretary; Ruth Glenn, treasurer; Pauline Glass, recreational leader; Pauline Lutton, song leader, and Dorothy Jane Glass, news reporter.

The next meeting will be at the home of Dorothy Jane and Pauline Glass when Miss Catherine Davis, Beaver county home economics director, will be in charge.

The Boxwood Barrier

By BLANCHE SMITH FERGUSON

The Story So Far: Judith Goodloe marries self-made Reuben Oliver for his money, only to discover he is bankrupt. After their twins are born, red-headed Cissy Rogers, who loves Reuben, gets him a job in a lumber camp managed by Gary Brent — the man Judith loves. Always a fighter, living by Judith's codes has weakened Reuben. Now, after a violent quarrel with Judith, he decides to make his own laws, and it is war to the knife with Gary. Cissy, on a visit, shocks Judith with the news that Gary may lose his job.

CHAPTER 36

Cissy Declares War

"GALBREATH has been losing money and men during the two years Gary has managed things," Cissy continued. "Now he's looking for a real timberman. A picturesque Robin Hood looking wise, but acting dumb is all right—up to a point."

For an instant Judith was too outraged to speak. Then: "You don't like Gary as much as you used to?" sweetly.

"Equally as well," coolly. "I don't love him—there's a difference."

Judith had a desire to slap Cissy. "Does he know he's to be let down?"

Cissy shrugged: "He spends so little time on the work, I doubt if he does." Outlining her lips with geranium red she watched Judith's dark face in the mirror. When she had studied it a long moment she said: "It's an ill wind that blows no good. It means a chance for Rube."

"Rube?"

"To became superintendent. Why—what's the matter?" Cissy swung around and faced her hostess. "You look stricken instead of tickled to death."

"Should I look—tickled?"

"Shouldn't you? It's your husband's big chance."

"You think he should elevate himself at a friend's expense?"

"I wouldn't call Gary Rube's friend—exactly."

"Reuben owes Gary his job."

"I asked for it." Cissy reminded her.

It was not a pleasant remembrance. Judith hurried on: "He let us have this cabin—"

"Think he did that for Rube? He did that for you."

"Suppose he did? I've known Gary all my life. Do you think Reuben should repay a kindness—"

"Piffle! Is it a kindness to exact an exorbitant rent which Gary probably puts in his own pocket—"

"Cissy!" furiously.

"I can't swear to it, of course," coolly.

"I can swear he doesn't. Gary is a gentleman."

"How you love to fool yourself with high sounding phrases, Judith. Why not come clean? You love Gary and you don't love Reuben!"

Cissy's statement crashed like cymbals against Judith's eardrums. The scant space between them vibrated to it.

"Cissy!"

"Maybe you can fool Rube, the blind bat. I'm not so sure — any more."

"I've never tried to fool him," proudly.

"You can even fool yourself — maybe, but you can't fool me. You'd sacrifice Reuben any day for Gary."

"Aren't you assuming a great deal?" haughtily.

"I'm assuming nothing." Great waves of life swept over Cissy. She bit her newly painted lips to steady them. "I know because I love Rube myself. I've loved him all my life and I'll keep right on loving him until I die. I'm that kind of a fool."

Stillness in the pine scented room. Neither woman moved. Neither seemed to breathe. Each watched the other, waiting for the next word, the next move.

With an effort Cissy said, defiantly, "Now you know."

"I knew before."

"I'm not very subtle."

Judith seemed not to hear. "If Gary went away—?" This whole lovely western forest suddenly lost its enchantment. Became just one more wilderness.

A New Deal

"Well," Cissy prodded, "what are you going to do about it?"

"Do?" She felt a vague pity for Cissy.

"Do!" emphatically. "The cards have been badly stacked, haven't they?"

"Maybe."

"I," Cissy strove for lightness, "am calling for a new deal."

Judith smiled whimsically: "Good luck!"

"I hope you mean it because I'm warning you I mean to play a hard game this time. I mean to win Rube if I can. You don't care! You're letting him down—"

"Be careful, Cissy!"

"You'd better be careful yourself!" Cissy lighted a cigaret with fingers that were not quite steady. "there's a wreck ahead for somebody and it might be you."

Gathering up a jeweled gold bag and emerald velvet wrap with its chinchilla collar, Cissy trailed from the rooom on tall gold heels, leaving a whiff of gray smoke in her wake.

Judith stood for a moment gazing after her.

"Why do I let her disturb me? Why?" But as on the evening of her first visit to Goodloe's Choice, Cissy had rocked Judith's world to its very foundation.

Immediately Reuben ceased to be a dim shadow in the background of his wife's life. He became very real—loomed very large. In a flash she realized that Reuben was the foundation of her present world—not the make believe world of laughter and whispered tenderness, but the real world that held the babies, spinach, carrots, clean laundry—without Reuben—

She dressed for the dance with utmost care in her one really fine remaining dress, a burnt orange chiffon alluring as sin. Fragile as a butterfly's wings.

"Silly to wear it through these woods," Judith told herself, sensibly, but she did not take it off. Instead she smiled at her reflection in the mirror with satisfaction. She was pretty again.

"I won't be frightened!" she went out on the porch to join Cissy. "Reuben will be late," she said easily, as though there had been no scene between them. "He always is."

"It wouldn't surprise me if he doesn't get here at all," Cissy replied with the too cheerful air of a woman who is trying to prepare herself for disappointment.

And then, almost as though her longing had brought him, Reuben's tall figure rounded the corner of the cabin.

"Hail fair maids!" He took the porch steps at a bound. Smiling at his wife and her guest with mock seriousness he said: "Your loveliness dazzles me."

"He didn't kiss her," Cissy noted with satisfaction. "A new deal is imminent—I hope I'll hold a trump or two."

The Queen Is Dead

That night brought startled realization to Judith that the breach between herself and Reuben had deepened and widened gradually, insidiously until each stood on opposite sides of a spanless chasm across which only the faintest echoes of their real selves were audible. If Reuben had become a shadow to her, she was only the most vaporish ghost to Reuben—a ghost to be tolerated and treated politely.

Being a ghost had its good points. One could stand on the side lines and view life impartially and unobserved. She saw Reuben more clearly from this distance than she ever had in the hectic, crowded days at Fordney's Gulch. The shadow was gaining substance. It gained vastly as she watched her husband dancing—with Cissy.

Judith's partner, a German professor, followed her gaze: "They dance well together."

"I was noticing that."

He laughed. "They have plenty of practice."

So! People were talking—

Judith tried not to watch Reuben, conscious in every part of her of the new indefinable quality about him. He looked like a man who has awakened after a long sleep to more abundant strength, power, happiness. He mingled with the dancers, but was plainly not of them. He wore a detached look, a soaring look—

"The eagle," Cissy had called him that night at Goodloe's Choice. Had accused Judith of chaining him. "Well, he has cast away his chains tonight."

Cissy was besieged with partners. Here was a new experience for Judith. She was not the undisputed belle, the queen of Camp No. 2 tonight. She had been dethroned ruthlesly and quite as a matter of fact. A brighter star had appeared on the horizon. Cissy Rogers was old Clem's sole heiress. If that were not enough to make any girl a sensation old Clem's daughter had beauty. She had charm. She had old Clem's ready friendliness.

Judith acknowledged the end of her reign. "The Queen is dead — long live the Queen!" Her lips quirked whimsically and then she saw Gary—blond, splendid, making his way towards her.

Who said the queen was dead?

Without the loss of a single step Gary took her from the professor. He said: "I thought I'd never get here."

She said: "I thought you'd never come."

"The buyers arrived today like a swarm of locusts."

"So Cissy said."

"Cissy here?" indifferently.

"Visiting me over the week-end. Come up tomorrow and help to entertain her."

"Oliver is expert at that. I'll entertain you."

Cissy and Reuben again! Not that it mattered. Nothing mattered save that Gary was here and that no one could lure him from her!

(Copyright, 1938, Blanche Smith Ferguson)

Tomorrow: Gary has something to tell Judith.

For Tuesday, April 26

ACCORDING to the lunar aspects influencing this day, there may be very exciting developments of a sudden and surprising nature, probably in connection with the breaking up of some stagnant situations or frustrating circumstances. These may entail travel or change, with certain hidden or secret factors. It might be well to be alert to confusing factors that demand very wise decisions as they may have vital reactions on the future. Confer with elders.

Those whose birthday it is may expect a very important year, in which decisions on suddenly-presented problems may have critical bearing on future welfare. Take counsel with elders. Change, travel or removal loom. Complicated or chaotic conditions call for vigilance and wisdom. Old, stagnant and impending matters may break up.

A child born on this day may be fond of change, travel and adventure, although it may be practical, industrious and trustworthy. It may have much originality in unusual lines.

The World is at Your Door

"YOUR TELEPHONE is connected," the installer told Mrs. Allison in her new home out on Elm Street as he gathered up his tools. What he could have said was "The world is at your door."

For when a telephone is connected, any one of the 19,000,000 other United States telephones and 93 per cent of those in the world may be called. Whether you want the butcher, a neighbor across the street, a relative across the continent, a friend on a ship at sea, in London or Bagdad, all you have to do is lift a receiver.

For the few cents a day your home telephone costs, you command in Ohio the use of property valued at $178,000,000 and the services of 10,000 carefully selected and trained men and women.

Too, you get the planning and direction of executives and supervisors who came up through the ranks and have a hand in every phase of your service. And further, you get the benefit of the facilities of the entire Bell System for research, standard manufacturing, technical and economic assistance.

So when the installer told Mrs. Allison "Your telephone is connected" she was ready to talk to almost anyone, anywhere, anytime, quickly, easily and at low cost.

HOUSE BUILDING, REPAIRS REQUIRE MUCH ATTENTION

Care Should Be Exercised In Selecting Type And Materials For Work

Too much care cannot go into surveillance of construction by home builders and owners contemplating repairs, authorities here say, for building of the family house is the major project of living.

Economy, convenience and, just as important, the final test of complete satisfaction, are keynotes in construction.

Home-building is the biggest single investment because it is the establishing of a background of a family's life and that family's place in the community. A couple undertaking construction of a house faces an adventure in which careful planning and consideration of features of enduring worth yield rich dividends.

Material Quality

Quality of materials and care in their choice are stressed by building experts. Today's values are made possible by the experience and research of these experts and American industry.

Here are some of the specialized fields from which home-builders should borrow experience, supply dealers point out, before choosing quality materials and expert contractors:

Architecture, engineering, domestic science, interior decorating, millwork, plumbing, heating and ventilation, household appliance, electrical engineering and lighting.

Economy should be considered in three phases: in construction and correct design, in upkeep and maintenance and in resale value. Quality materials in construction by the best contractors will guarantee the first, careful attention in anticipating repair needs the second and a combination of both, the third.

Construction features to be insisted on are: a firm foundation; framing of members of the proper size and species; end-matched and properly - seasoned lumber; insulation; exterior design in the best tradition; a full-size basement; carefully-planned utility rooms, and care in choice of mechanical equipment.

Convenience Important

There are several different angles of convenience that should be anticipated by home-builders in their sarch for the best in a modern, up-to-date house. Considerable experience in construction by a contractor will account for careful attention to economic arrangement for convenience.

Here are a few: Make sure that your new home has: storage space; adequate stairways and doors; quick access; privacy; a properly-arranged kitchen; serviceable electrical outlets; correct artificial lighting; proper ventilation and heating, and adequate wall space.

Now Is The Time
To Make Sure You Don't Shiver All Next Winter!

★ Make sure that your new home is equipped with a good furnace, one that is expertly installed.

GAS the Perfect Kitchen Fuel

Quick! Efficient! Economical! The choice of modern women everywhere. The UNIVERSAL GAS RANGE and ELECTROLUX REFRIGERATOR add pure beauty coupled with brilliant efficiency.

GAS IS BETTER

Modern cooking is fully automatic. The gas comes on and is lighted as you turn the handle. Instant maximum heat; flexible, and immediately controlled, insuring positive results in any type of cooking, baking. The Electrolux Refrigerator with its controled temperature feature, an advantage only gas can give, assures you better preservation of food.

GAS IS QUICKER

As soon as you turn the handle you may have maximum heat instantly. Gas is the only fuel that gives maximum heat instantly.

GAS IS CHEAPER

Gas cooking costs less per meal per person than any modern fuel. For a family of four persons the cost is approximately three-tenths of one cent per person per meal. At this low cost you cannot afford to experiment with less satisfactory fuels.

UNION, U. S. OFFICIALS END RUBBER PARLEY

Action Veiled As Bitterness Grows In Akron Strife

By The Associated Press.

AKRON, O., April 25—Union officials returned here today from a conference with the U. S. department of labor on the current rubber wage dispute as speakers broadcast both sides of the tense situation.

Both federal and union officials withheld comment after the conference over the situation climaxed by a threat of the B. F. Goodrich Co., to move 5,000 jobs out of Akron unless wages are cut.

H. C. Atkinson, executive secretary of the Akron Chamber of Commerce, said in a radio address that "Akron is no longer going to sit back and let the town be destroyed without at least insisting that the United Rubber Workers (CIO) accept the responsibility of making a decision.

"It does not intend to let Goodrich follow Goodyear and Firestone into decentralization by default of civic interest. Revision of wages is necessary so that the rubber center of America may compete with other areas where lower wages and longer hours are standard."

Thomas Burns, executive vice president of the union, charged in another broadcast that "not a single major rubber company in Akron, with the exception of the United States Rubber Co., has made up its mind to deal with its organized workers on a fair and permanent basis.

Health And Beauty Suggestions

Disturbed Emotions Should Be Avoided To Keep Full Bloom Of Youthfulness

By HELEN FOLLETT

No woman can afford to indulge in emotional disturbances. When you want to scream or bite nails or start a family battle, put on your hat and go for a long walk.

Every time a woman has an emotional spree, she loses out on good looks. Unless she gets herself in hand, the youthful appearance will evaporate, she will find herself beset with beauty griefs. It is easier to prevent "turkey tracks," sagging tissues and all their horrid ilk than it is to cure them.

To travel happily from one birthday to another, there are other matters to keep in mind. Teeth must have attention, not only the daily scouring but professional care twice a year. Muscles must retain resilience, and that is possible only when they have sufficient daily exercise to keep them toned.

Complexion must be oiled, scalps frictioned, hands lotioned. Coiffures must be changed to conform to the present styles.

That sounds like a big order, but it isn't. It is an interesting part of the business of living.

Ridged brittle finger nails get that way because of a diet deficiency. There is need of more calcium. You can get that food element by drinking milk. A good rule is a glass with each meal, another glass before going to bed.

Heat some olive oil, friction it into each nail, massaging from base to tip. For a time avoid liquid polish. Use a powder and friction well with the buffet to stimulate the underlying blood streams.

Frances Farmer
She avoids emotional disturbances for beauty's sake.

World Of Stamps

By JAMES B. HATCHER

AUSTRIA'S April 10 plebiscite brought forth an exultant German commemorative. The design symbolizes anschluss by showing a German and an Austrian carrying a swastika flag together. Framing this vignette is the inscription:

"One People, One Reich, One Leader—10 April 1938."

The stamp is a 6-pfennig denomination, printed in dark green. Art Professor Punchinger of Vienna designed it.

Chaulmoogra

Natives of Burma and India have known for many centuries that the brownish yellow oil pressed from chaulmoogra seeds was helpful in treating leprosy. But it was less than 40 years ago that American and European doctors became seriously interested.

Lepers used to try to swallow the nauseating, acrid oil, and they spread it upon their sores. Nowadays they take it by injections, due to the experiments of Victor G. Heiser ("An American Doctor's Odyssey") in the Philippines, and of other doctors in Hawaii.

A flowering branch of this famous tree, which grows wild in Burma, Lower Bengal and Assam, is pictured on Egypt's new set of three stamps commemorating the International Leprosy congress held at Cairo in March. Dr. Heiser presided incidentally.

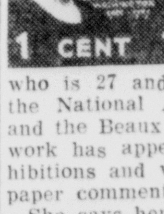
Like the commemorative sets for the Ophtalmological, Cotton and Radio congresses (it's becoming a minor industry at Cairo), this one consists of 5-millieme red-brown, 15-m puce and 20-m bright blue.

Elaine Rawlinson's Design

Of the announced 31-stamp presidential series, the 1-cent G. Washington is to go on sale April 25 at Washington; the 1½-c M. Washington, May 5 at same place; the ½-c Franklin May 19 at Philadelphia; the 2-c John Adams, June 3 at Washington.

The 1-cent Washington stamp, and, presumably, the other low values of the new set, are to follow the design which won first prize for Elaine Rawlinson, young New York portrait and mural painter, in the treasury department contest last year.



Miss Rawlinson, who is 27 and blonde, studied at the National Academy of Design and the Beaux Arts institute. Her work has appeared in several exhibitions and won favorable newspaper comment.

She says her design was not inspired by the somewhat similar Edward VIII stamps, for she "hadn't looked at any other stamps." She used the Houdon bust of Washington.

The designers at Washington face the problem of finding profile pictures or busts of all the other Presidents. For the higher values, a foliate border may be added to the Rawlinson design, though this is not definite.

The 1-center will be green, rotary printed in sheets of 100.

KENNEDY ADDRESSES THRONG AT MIDLAND

Parade Precedes Rally For Gubernatorial Aspirant

Special To The Review.

MIDLAND, April 15.—Lieut. Gov. Thomas Kennedy spread his campaign in Pennsylvania today after addressing a throng here Saturday to launch his gubernatorial aspirations in Beaver county with a parade and rally sponsored by the Labor, Nonpartisan league of unionists and Democratic leaders.

Kennedy, with other candidates on the ticket and leaders on the Democratic ticket were honored by a parade headed by the Midland High school band at 10:50 a. m. Previous to the mass meeting at the corner of Sixth st. and Midland ave. the candidates lunched with local Democratic organization heads.

Judge Michael Musmanno and Sen. Joseph Guffey were unable to attend the Midland rally, but joined the group in Aliquippa.

The speakers were Joseph Timko of Ambridge, regional director of SWOC lodges in Beaver county; John Thornton of Midland, treasurer of the local CIO organization; State Treasurer F. Clair Ross; Judge Ralph H. Smith, candidate for lieutenant governor, and Mr. Kennedy.

Mr. Kennedy emphasized in his speech he felt no partiality— that if he were elected he would be governor for all the people, not prejudiced to one class.

Aerial bombs marked the beginning of the parade and his arrival in town.

ROBBERS STEAL GOODS FROM NEWELL STORE

$150 In Merchandise Taken From Carnahan Drug Sunday

Approximately $150 worth of merchandise was stolen from the Sam W. Carnahan drug store on Fifth st., in Newell Sunday morning by thieves who broke in through a plate glass door.

State police who investigated the case Sunday, rounded up 10 youths for questioning tonight before Squire John Talbot, and intimated that a series of similar petty burglaries in Newell would be solved.

The robbery was discovered at 6:30 a. m. by L. C. Mills, who notified the owner. Loot included watches, cameras, pen and pencil sets, compacts, manicure sets, an atomizer and cosmetics. Some pennies were stolen.

The time of the robbery was set at approximately 2 a. m. Besides state police investigating were Chief Floyd Lyons of Chester and Deputy W. E. Smith.

Riot Squad Corners Rat

AUBURN, N. Y.—Police with drawn revolvers apprehended a large rat in the basement of a store when they searched the building for a burglar. A patrolman who heard a "suspicious noise" when he tried the door, called the riot squad.

DREAM HOUSE

Do You ever plan the house you'd build
If Fortune smiled your way
And if your wish could be fulfilled
Just where you'd choose to stay?
And would your home be creamy white
With blinds of apple green
Just far enough from passers' sight
To place a lawn between?

I wonder if a cottage small
Is what you have in view
With staircase planned to grace the hall
Where sunbeams filter thru'.
Would every room get lots of air
And sparkle in the sun?
Would open fires burn embers there
To watch—when day is done?

I wonder if your house of dreams
Has walks that roses line—
If all these things are true—it seems
Your dreams are just like mine.

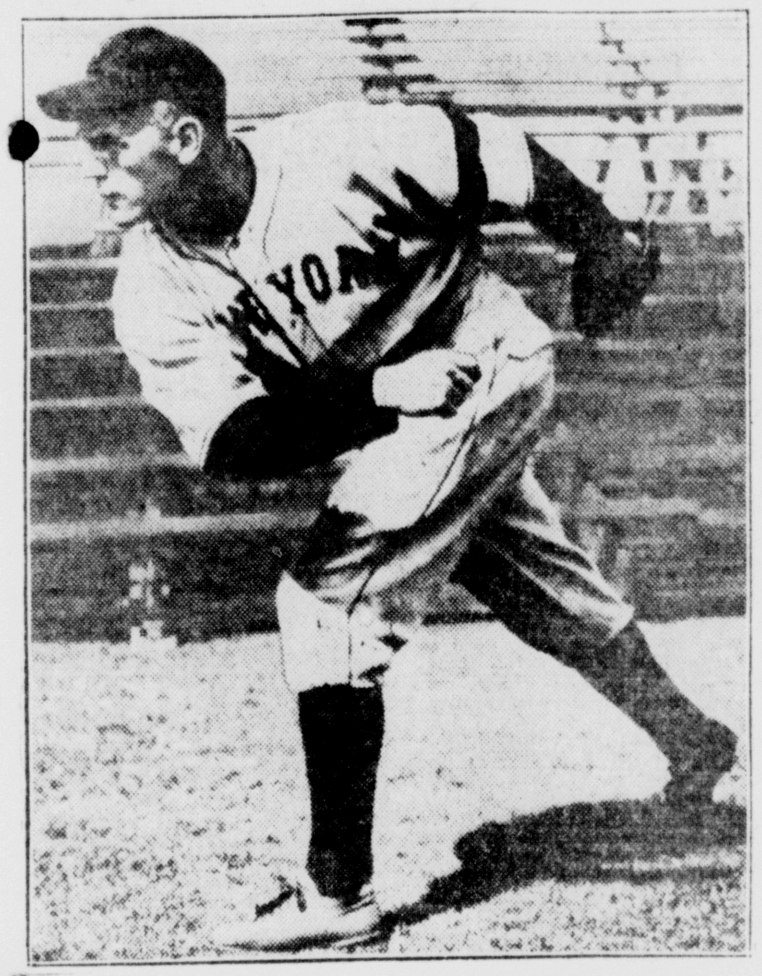
Dodger Rookie Spoils His Game



ROOKIE Rosy Rosen, first Brooklyn batter in the first inning, scratched a single past first base Sunday and thereby ruined a no-hit, no-run pitching performance by Hal Schumacher, New York Giant ace right-hander. Not another Dodger batter through the nine innings came even close to whacking the ball safely as Hal pulled out a 1-0 decision on Mel Ott's homer.

SPORTS EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

He's In Great Demand

AL SCHACHT, comedian of major league baseball fame, is in great demand. Last season he had engagements with 47 minor and six major league clubs, in addition to performing in the World Series. He expects to make $35,000 this year.

NATIONAL LEAGUE'S MOUNDSMEN BEAR DOWN IN SUNDAY BATTLES

HAL SCHUMACHER DOWNS BROOKLYN WITH ONE BINGLE

Tobin, Dean And MacFayden Also Turn In Games; Bob Feller Wins Again

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

National league pitchers evidently are beginning to take a liking to that new ball with its slightly raised seams. In four games yesterday they turned in a series of remarkable performances, Hall Schumacher of the Giants showing the way with a one-hit, 1 to 0 victory over Brooklyn's Dodgers.

There's no doubt the National league ball affords a little better grip than the American agate and enables a pitcher to get maybe a little more stuff on his deliveries, though tests have proved it travels just as far when swatted soundly.

The only hit off Schumacher was by Rosy Rosen, Brooklyn rookie, the first man to face him at Ebbets field. Thereafter only three reached first on the Giants' right-hander, all on walks.

Ott's Homer Does It

Van Mungo of the Dodgers gave 10 hits, but it took Mel Ott's home run in the second inning to beat him.

Danny MacFayden of the Boston Bees produced a three-hit gem in blanking the Phillies, 2 to 0. Just before game time he had been advised of the death of his foster father, but insisted upon pitching.

Dizzy Dean gave a little additional proof that he isn't going to do the Chicago Cubs any material harm as he shut out his old chums, the St. Louis Cardinals, 5 to 0, on four hits.

Chicago fans to the number of 34,520 turned out to see their new $250,000 beauty, and Dizzy didn't disappoint them. His curve, which is wider than in other years, had the Cards swinging frantically. He singled for one of the Cubs' eight blows off Max Macon, a youngster making his first big league start.

Jim Tobin kept the undefeated Pirates tearing along at the head of the procession as he bested Peaches Davis of Cincinnati, 2 to 1, in a brilliant duel. He allowed five hits; Davis six. The Pirates opened a series with the Cubs today.

Cleveland Takes Lead

Cleveland climbed into the American league lead with its fifth straight triumph and third in a row over Detroit, 9 to 4. Bob Feller held the Tigers to three safeties and no runs for the first eight innings. They popped him five times in the ninth to break his scoreless string.

With DiMaggio still out of the lineup, the Yankees showed some of their old-time spunk in beating Washington, 4 to 3. Trailing into the eighth, they filled the bases and scored the tying and winning runs on a lazy grounder that the Senator infield failed to convert into a double play.

The St. Louis Browns nosed out Chicago, 4 to 3, in the last of the ninth after the White Sox had rallied in their half to score three times and chase Jim Walkup from the hill.

The Philadelphia Athletics finally broke into the victory column by lacing four Boston rookie pitchers for 14 hits and a 10 to 4 victory. Bob Johnson of the A's hit his third home run of the season.

Where's People's Choice?

Mickey Cochrane's Tigers, Favored As Nine To Push Yanks Out Of Top Spot, Starting Slow; National League Rookies Looking Extra Good So Far

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 25—Good morning, folks—and look at Mickey Cochrane's Tigers (the people's cherce) way down thar in last place . . Tip to 15 big-league clubs: Yankee scouts are looking over Pitcher Rosy Waugh and fly-chaser Bud Matheny down at William and Mary college . . . Seems Waugh's won four Southern conference games so far, and Bud, who graduates in June, is only hitting for .500 in seven games—including four homers—Ty Cobb's nevvew, Darwin, pitched a three-hitter in his Sally league debut with Jacksonville over the week-end . . . Hollywood is after a Lou Ambers—Jimmy Garrison now-title go for next month . . . Figure it'll draw 25 G's.

It's too early to start carrying the torch, but National league rookies look lots better than the American so far . . . Especially those outfielders—Pittsburgh's Johnny Rizzo, Chicago's Coaker Triplett, St. Louis' Enos Slaughter and Brooklyn's Rosy Rosen, who ruined Hal Schumacher's no-hitter yesterday . . . Red Grange is up and around again—asking pals if they've seen his operation . . . The folks in Washington think so much of Zeke Bonura, they're liable to give him the keys to the mint yet . . . Eddie Hinshaw, sparkplug of the classy Southwestern (Kans.) Basketballers, tips the beam at 126 pounds . . . And his six-foot sidekicks say he gets lost among 'em on the floor . . . Bill Herry figures Hubbell's a cinch for 20 games again this season.

Has anyone noticed that Clint Brown pitched in four of the White Sox's first five games? . . . Bill Lee's starting this season the way he ended last—strictly an eight-inning flinger . . . R. H. Lewis, Greensboro (N. C.) reader, writes: Jack Coombs' Duke outfit you seemed to think was so good, dropped decisions to N. C. State and Wake Forest last week . . . And John Caddell, who's been coaching Wake Forest for 30 years, has the makings again there this season.

Yankees may decide to hold Joe DiMaggio out till their first Sunday home game, May 8 against the White Sox . . . Which would bring about 110 percent of the Bronx into the stadium . . . Hal Trosky found a way he could pull hits into left field—and it isn't doing his batting average a bit of harm . . . You hear talk around and about that Tuck Stainback and Clyde Shoun, who went to the Cards in the Diz Dean deal, may wind up at Columbus . . . Marv Ferrell, brother of the Senators' brothers, does his stuff for Trenton in the Eastern league this summer . . . Which means he'll probably wind up with the Nats, too.

Potter Fairway Artists Tripped By Tiltonville Despite Better Form

EAST LIVERPOOL High school's Potter golfers turned in their best performance of the season Saturday, yet suffered their worst defeat.

Tiltonville, with an array of exceptionally competent schoolboy fairway artists, handed out the poison, 11½ to 3½ on the Vine Cliff course down-river.

Cucculelli of the Tiltons fired a 38-36—74 for medal honors and with the exception of Keys, who collected three points against Sarkang, the locals were helpless before the Jefferson county shotmakers. Both Tom and Art Cloran matched Keys' 86 but were unable to connect for points.

The two teams will engage in a return match here next Saturday.

The scores:

Tiltonville

JUNIOR DIAMOND LOOP PILOTS MEET TONIGHT

Floyd Tice, chairman of the committee reorganizing the East Liverpool Junior Baseball league, has called a meeting tonight at 8 to be held in City hall.

Tice has urged all managers and sponsors of teams interested in joining the prospective circuit to attend as a number of important matters pertaining to the league setup will be discussed.

Jim Tobin and Paul Waner, Pirates—Former held Reds to five hits and scored first run, latter drove in winning tally with eighth-inning single.

Hemsley Celebrates Feller Victory, Draws Indefinite Suspension, Fine

By The Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, April 25—"Rollicking Rollie" Hemsley came home today in the dog house again, while his team mates, the Cleveland Indians, moved into Chicago in first place in the American league.

Manager Oscar Vitt suspended Hemsley indefinitely and fined him $250 for breaking training.

Hemsley caught for Bob Feller at Detroit Sunday while the Indians spanked the Tigers for the third straight time, 9 to 4. Vitt saw Hemsley celebrating in the Indians' hotel at Detroit last night.

The incorrigable playboy of the league immediately was given his second suspension of the season. He was sent home for a week during the spring training for the same reason.

With the St. Louis Browns last year he lost $5,000 in payless suspensions and fines. Vitt stated after the Indians obtained Hemsley that the 30-year-old veteran could be handled with kindness and a new chance. He has caught only two games since the season opened.

Feller struck out 11 men and blanked the Tigers until the ninth inning while his team mates clouted four pitchers for 14 hits, including home runs by Hale, Trosky and Lary.

The Indians put the game on ice in the second inning when they jumped on George Gill, starting pitcher, and Coffman, his successor, for five runs. In this frame, Odel Hale hit the first home run into Detroit's new left field pavilion.

Feller let down in the ninth and allowed the Tigers five straight hits and four runs. A morning drizzle held the crowd to 18,000.

Danny MacFayden, Bees—Blanked Phillies with three hits for 2-0 victory.

Don Heffner, Browns—Doubled in ninth and scored on Mel Mazzera's single to beat White Sox, 4-3.

Cleveland Central Track Team Now Favored For State Crown

By The Associated Press.

COLUMBUS, April 25—Ohio's high school track and field stars looked forward today to next Saturday's Ohio Wesleyan relays to furnish another criterion as to which squad would succeed Sandusky as state champion in the annual classic at Ohio State's Stadium May 27 and 28.

Cleveland Central, by virtue of its surprising triumph in the Mansfield relays Saturday, in which it nosed out Toledo Scott 25½ to 25, was in the driver's seat today, but the Wesleyan "team" competition was expected to change the picture a bit.

Sandusky, defending champion at both Mansfield and Columbus surrendered its minor laurels by scoring only seven points in the record-breaking spree which saw 11 new marks written into the 18-event program. Sandusky lost most of its 1937 strength via the diploma route.

Toledo Scott won its runner-up berth after the meet was over. The first official score had Central winning with 25½ points, Huntington, W. Va., second with 23, Erie (Pa.) Strong-Vincent third with 22, and Scott and Cleveland East tied for fourth with 21. A "squawk" from Toledo's coach, however, resulted in a recheck which gave Scott a third place instead of last in the broad jump, and fourth place in the mile relay, instead of a zero. The two changes were good for a four-point total and second place in the meet.

Central's half-point edge came in the 440-yard run, in which the Cleveland school had three of the six qualifiers and counted 9½ points, Peterson of Upper Arlington cutting into a third place tie with Withers of Central to share the third and fourth place points. Had Peterson been a "nose" faster the meet would have wound up in a deadlock for the first time in its 12-year history.

On the basis of the Mansfield meet, and moving the Ohioans up in the events where out-of-state athletics scored, Central is favored to win the state championship with 30 points, with Scott next with 25. However, teams not entered at Mansfield may jumble the state meet scoring list, and form reversals may create other changes.

Rudloff, Entriken Score

RUDLOFF of East Palestine placed second in the javelin throw and Entriken of Columbiana was fifth in the 220-yard hurdles to score four and one points, respectively, for their teams in the Mansfield relays Saturday. Their five points represented the total honors of Columbiana county participants in the meet which shattered all previous records for number of teams and individuals participating.

24,744 motorists who recently bought new cars were asked for their gasoline preference
Here's a story of motor fuel superiority . . . told, not by its manufacturer, but by the most critical of its users:—owners of new cars with high compression engines. These experienced drivers ranked Blue Sunoco first by 57.5% more votes than the next highest on the list . . . gave it 95% as many votes as the next two gasolines put together. Certainly facts like these should convince you that High Geared Blue Sunoco is the motor fuel for your car . . . because:—since new cars require a better gasoline to perform satisfactorily, such a gasoline will obviously perform with at least equal satisfaction in older cars.

A Man In Your Life

SO many wise and witty new books telling how to get your man have appeared this season that if any girl doesn't know all the right answers, it's her own fault.

But the most refreshing thing about all of these little books is their frank admission that every woman wants a man in her life—a husband, a lover, an escort, whether she is a career girl or not. Of course, she does, so what? So the non-marrying girl is just a myth, all the cards are laid on the table, and the love game is becoming an exact science.

"The Way To His Heart," by John Beekman, is a psychological study of the male, which no marrying girl can afford to miss. He tells you all the qualities and mental attitudes in woman which attracts or repel men, and sums up with this discerning observation:

"Generosity, a willingness to be diverted and a conscious ability to be herself, these characterize the ideal man's woman; and she is a whole lot more than many of us deserve."

"Men," he declares, "are unfaithful, but loyal; woman are faithful but disloyal." And that's only one of the bomb-shells he explodes.

"Win Him If You Want Him," by Lee M. Gregory, fires the first shot on page one. "You love living alone?" he asks ironically. "You are a successful business woman with a comfortable income, stimulating friends, your freedom. You are not the least interested in acquiring a husband? Then why do you give such careful thought to your grooming and your makeup? Why do you want to be beautiful, if you do not also want to be loved?" All right. All right. We give up.

But frankest of all these tomes is "How About a Man?" by Hildegarde Dolson. A woman, of course. Trust a modern girl to spill the beans. The first chapter is entitled, "Wanted: A Man," and the last "Object: Matrimony." And you can't misunderstand that. Here are a few hot tips from this book.

"You can't sit at home knitting and expect a man to tumble down the chimney at your feet. Even Santa Claus comes only once a year. You'll have to reach for what you want."

"Heaven doesn't provide for the working girl, but an office provides heaven-sent opportunities for meeting men."

"If you act like a door-mat, you can't blame a man for walking all over you."

"Oh, yes, it is no longer enough to feed the brute and let him talk about himself. Charming a man is an intricate science which requires study, concentration and a lot of practice.

And now won't somebody write a book about how to charm a woman? Or don't we need to be charmed?

From this key you may readily determine the number of years the following concerns have been connected with the automobile business in your city. Such records of accomplishment in the satisfactory serving of these dealers certainly warrants your utmost respect, confidence and consideration, when contemplating the purchase of a car.

The majority of the used cars offered in the following ads were traded in on new cars by people of this community and were reconditioned in the dealer's own shop. The fact that these dealers have spent many thousands of dollars in the establishment of these agencies and in building up a reputation through the years should count for much in your decision when buying a car.
